PERRY S. HEATH IS GOING ABROAD

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(Special.)—Postmaster General Payne announced tonight that former First Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath was soon to start on an extended journey to China, Japan and the Philippines, and possibly other parts of the east. This was an unexpected announcement, as it was supposed that Mr. Heath could throw much light on matters under investigation in the postoffice department, and his presence in the country at this time is considered important to the conclusion of the inquiry.

LEADING FEATURE OF PLATFORM.

We commend President Roosevelt; we favor his nomination for president in 1904.

[From a Staff Correspondent.]
[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Columbus, O., June 4.—Harmony and Roosevelt were the salient features of the Ohio state Republican convention today where a few weeks ago it appeared that there would be friction. But conditions shifted so that there was no clash over candidates. Senators Hanna and Foraker beamed upon the audience from the same platform and bouquets were tossed back and forth with such graceful words of good will that apparently everybody was pleased, including the defeated candidates. There was no mention of the Roosevelt indorsement dispute except a brief and jovial allusion in one of the nominating speeches, and if that incident has left political sores they were so salved and court plastered today that they were not visible.

It was Hanna's convention just as had been predicted. From the moment he stepped upon the stage and bowed his acknowledgments to the applause that greeted him, everybody seemed to vie with each other in handing him compliments and catering to his wishes. Even Senator Foraker bowed and scraped and paid him homage with apparent good grace. As permanent chairman Mr. Foraker's address was devoted principally to lauding his colleague and every verbal bouquet that was tossed to the junior senator was approved with vigorous applause by the delegates.

"This is Hanna's year," said Mr. Foraker, "and yesterday was especially Hanna's day. He made the keynote speech and I have no hesitation in saying that it was the best I ever heard in any convention. It really leaves nothing for anybody else to say."

THREE REPUBLICAN DUTIES.

He remarked that Republicans have three great duties to discharge, the first of which is the election of Myron T. Herrick as governor. This he said would be an easy matter. "The second," said he, "will be easier still. It is the election of Senator Hanna to be his own successor. If we should leave it alone it would accomplish itself, but we do not intend to leave it alone. We are all going to help do it, Senator Hanna, because you deserve at our hands that we do it, and we intend to keep on electing you from time to time as long as you will stand it, and we hope you will live forever."

Thus did Senator Hanna's political adversary in many a lively bout pay tribute to him while the representatives of Ohio Republicanism listened and then shouted their approbation. Then Mr. Foraker

GIRL WAS DEAD; MEN RAN AWAY

Corpse Found in Allegheny After Fire Was Discovered.

CASE IS MYSTERIOUS

Officers Do Not Think the Victim Met Her Death as a Result of the Burning Building.

SUSPECTS ARE STILL AT LARGE

Considerable mystery surrounds the death of an unknown Greek girl about 15 years of age, who was found dead in a small closet in a fruit store at the Allegheny end of the Seventh street bridge shortly before 8 o'clock last night. The girl was found sitting in the closet, her arms folded across her breast, after the firemen had extinguished a blaze that apparently resulted from the explosion of a gasoline stove. Nothing is known of the girl, and the cause of the fire is also a mystery. The two Greeks who owned the store disappeared while the place was burning.

An alarm was turned in from box No. 96 about 7:30 last night for a fire in what was formerly a toll house at the end of the bridge, but which for about seven months has been occupied by Marcellus Palropulears and another Greek whose name is unknown. They conducted a fruit stand and had living with them a small boy, who is said to be employed at the Union station at night. No women were ever seen about the place. By the time the firemen reached the building it was in flames throughout, but the fire was soon extinguished. Palropulears and his partner were seen running across the bridge toward Pittsburgh shortly after the alarm was turned in, and nothing has been seen of them since.

Fireman Alexander Greer of No. 6 engine company entered the store while the fire was still burning, and kicking open the door of the closet found the young girl sitting with folded arms just inside the door. Her face and hands were slightly scorched and the fire had singed her clothes. Just outside the door was found the gasoline stove that had caused the fire. From the nature of her burns the girl could scarcely have been even seriously injured by the fire, and Deputy Coroner George Limber declares she was dead before the fire.

It is his opinion that she was suffocated or strangled more than an hour before the place burned, and that the building was set afire and the body of the girl left to be consumed.

Inquiry among the children of the neighborhood brought out that no girl was ever seen about the place. Officer Amos Dachroth, who passes the store eight or ten times a day, said last night he had never seen a girl about the place. An investigation of the closet in which the girl was found disclosed that the door behind which she was found was only slightly scorched. The Allegheny police have done nothing in the matter, and Assistant Superintendent John Glenn said last night he would make an investigation in the morning. The girl is pretty and is remarkably developed for one of her age. Her body was taken to the morgue.

Palropulears was arrested on May 4 last for shooting a boy who is said to have been stealing fruit from his store.

Patrick Sweeney, aged 37 years, a fireman of No. 6 engine company, had his right leg crushed below the knee by being run over by a steamer while going to the fire. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, where his leg was amputated. He will probably die.

HUNDREDS BUTCHERED BY TURKS

Soldiers Slaughter Many Women, Children and Aged Persons.

HOMES ARE BURNED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Monastir, European Turkey, June 4.—Horrible details are arriving here of the slaughter of the inhabitants of the village of Smerdash, south of Lake Presba, May 21, by Bashi-Bazouks (irregular Turkish volunteers).

About 300 houses were burned and upwards of 200 persons, mostly women and children, were killed. The women and girls were murdered while resisting assault. Whole households were slain. One family of seven were slain and their bodies heaped on their hearth. Not a living soul was left in the village. The survivors, many of whom half burned or otherwise injured, fled. Some of the fleeing villagers were captured and had their ears and noses cut off before they were butchered.

The report adds that 1,500 villagers were in the mountains, without clothing or food. One band of these, consisting of 40 women and children, were caught by soldiers in a ravine and were killed after horrible treatment.

It appears that on the arrival of the Bashi-Bazouks, the Chakalaroffs band of insurgents withdrew to the mountains without sustaining any loss. As no rebels were left in the village the inhabitants experienced no anxiety until suddenly at sunset the Turks, who had completely surrounded the place, commenced a regular bombardment, whereupon all the villagers assembled in the streets. Though the artillery ceased firing during part of the night, the Turkish infantry fired all night.

The artillery bombardment was recommenced at daybreak, but as it was ineffective the Turks set fire to the village on all sides and comenced a general massacre, slaughtering women, children and aged persons.

SALONICA, EUROPEAN TURKEY, June 4.—There was a renewal of the trouble on the frontier last night. A band of 1,200 Bulgarians crossed the frontier near Djumabala and Turkish troops encountered another band of 20 men north of Petrich. Three of the Bulgarians were killed and the remainder escaped in the darkness. A court-martial here has condemned four Bulgarians to death.

New York Short of Water.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(Special.)—Residents are requested by the water commissioner to be sparing in their use of water until the drought is broken. Since the beginning of May it has been necessary to draw upon the storage reservoirs at the rate of 280,000,000 gallons a day to meet the needs of the city. At the beginning of the drought the storage supply on hand amounted to about 45,000,000 gallons.

BIG COAL STRIKE WILL PROBABLY BE AVOIDED

The Operators Announce Themselves as Favorable to the Miners' Convention.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, June 4.—The three district executive boards of United Mine Workers met this afternoon at Scranton, Hazleton and Pottsville to outline the work of the convention of anthracite mine workers called to meet in Pottsville June 15. It seems certain that a strike will be avoided.

Leading coal operators and mine superintendents throughout the anthracite region declared today that if District Presidents Nichols, Fahey and Dettrey were elected by a delegate convention and these delegates represented a majority of the mine employes, no further objections would be made. Operators say the miners are pursuing the proper course. An early meeting of the conciliation board is thus assured.

They say the only objection put forth was the opinion that the representatives of the miners had not been properly elected. They feared that after these men had been met and treated with by the representatives of the operators that the body of miners might possibly disclaim any responsibility for the action of the conciliators.

This contention is undoubtedly far fetched, and the miners will meet it at Pottsville by renaming their district presidents. This seems to dispose of the possibility of a general strike in the anthracite field.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 4.—(Special.)—President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers declined tonight to express himself regarding the probability of a strike in the Pennsylvania anthracite region. He said:

"The statement that the question of recognizing the United Mine Workers was never submitted to the strike commission is entirely untrue. That was one of the important awards in our favor, the wording of it being that 'the miners' organization, which is, of course, the United Mine Workers, should have three representatives on the board of conciliation, one for each district.' Naturally I appeared for the anthracite coal workers before the strike commission, but it was as president of the United Mine Workers that I was given the right to do so."

ONE MILLION PEOPLE STARVING IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(Special.)—United States Consul McWade at Canton, in his latest report on the famine in China received at the state department today, says that Gov. Wong has reported to him that 1,000,000 people are now starving in the province of Kwang. He says that the situation is becoming worse every day, with absolutely no hope in the near future. The governor of the province also expressed a desire that Consul McWade urge the American people to render what assistance was possible to the famine stricken Chinese.

Bryan After Rockefeller.

LINCOLN, NEB., June 4.—(Special.)—Commenting in his Commoner of tomorrow on the practice of universities and churches accepting gifts from those whom he terms monopolists, Mr. Bryan questions the propriety of the practice and declares himself against it, making John D. Rockefeller a case in point.

DEAD LIST INCREASES EACH DAY

Seventy-One Bodies Have Been Recovered in the Kansas Flood District

DAMAGE IS ENORMOUS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Kansas City, June 4.—As the waters recede the full estimate of the damage is being gleaned. The list of known dead has now reached 71, with 30 people identified. North Topeka is a total wreck, many of the residences still floating about the streets.

From Manhattan, Abelene, Salina, Florence, Lincoln Centre, Hutchinson and Armourdale come reports that the water is falling and that the towns are slowly recovering. Armourdale seems to be in the worst condition and an appeal for aid sent out says 8,000 people are homeless and in absolute want.

Throughout the valleys of the various rivers there continues to be reports of many people being missing, and it is believed that many bodies are yet under the wreckage. Estimates of the damage done total almost $16,000,000. Small storekeepers in the flooded district are ruined and the losses on buildings are distributed among thousands of owners.

SHERIFF REMOVED

Jackson County's Peace Guardian Was an Uncle of Alleged Murderer Jett.

JACKSON, KY., June 4.—At the opening of court this morning Sheriff Callahan insisted on his right to summon a jury to try Jett and White, the alleged murderers of James Marcum. Callahan is Jett's uncle and is a close personal friend of White.

The motion made to remove Callahan was then taken up and was granted. Judge Redwin appointed John Jones. Jones is at present deputy sheriff under Callahan and is the only deputy not objected to by the prosecution. The jury will be drawn from Magoffin county.

DONAHOE IS A DEFENDANT

Councilman and Others Charged With Illegal Liquor Selling.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

CONTEST WITHOUT GLOVES

Select Councilman Peter J. Donahoe, Dockmaster John Koch and Edward Schmershall have been returned to the quarter sessions court for selling liquor illegally in the Fourth ward. District Attorney John C. Haymaker says that processes will be issued for them today. The grand jury will on next Thursday pass upon the case.

Back of the prosecution is a story of unusual interest, having to do with the strenuous political life of the Point. It is a tale of bloodshed and reform. Donahoe and his colleague, Common Councilman John Martin, have found that it is dangerous to stray over into the First ward and make assertions about being able to whip any man in the ward. They raise blacksmiths and bartenders down there who apparently do not like reformers of the Bigelow machine.

Just what either of them think about the fighters of the First, or what Donahoe has to say of the charge that he has sold liquor could not be learned last night. An early call at Judge Donahoe's residence found him in bed and the doctor had left word that he was not to be disturbed. Martin's home was apparently deserted. His friends say that he has some reminders of his visit to the First, but that he is still a "good man," and had not an unfair advantage been taken, his declaration that he could "whip any man in the First," would have been made good.

THEY INVADED THE FIRST.

Donahoe's friends blame political enemies in the First and Third wards for the charge that he has been selling liquor illegally. Saturday night Donahoe and Martin were visiting their constituents in the lower end of the Fourth ward. Some one suggested that Liberty street be crossed and a call made at Whalen's saloon in the First ward. According to Dockmaster Koch this was done. In the saloon were John Joyce and Dominick Bodkin. The latter is a former iron worker, turned bar tender and the former is a blacksmith.

Various stories are told of what happened. One version is that the judge announced that Martin could "lick any man in the First or Fourth wards," Koch claims this is slightly incorrect, and says that Martin, after being goaded, announced that he could "whip any man in the First." The dock master says that Bodkin accused Donahoe of having had a Point policeman discharged. The party went outside and Martin remarked to the judge that he would take up the matter. There was considerable argument and a mixup. Koch says that Bodkin struck Martin across the eyes with an umbrella and then the men clinched. When the pavement was reached, Bodkin was on top. There are stories about black eyes and "Paddy" Garrity says that Martin was given the "heel" and the "leather" when he was down.

JOYCE AND THE JUDGE.

While Martin and Bodkin were struggling for supremacy, the judge and Joyce came together. The select councilman touched the ground, and in the First they say that the judge was forced to stick out his tongue three times in response to the blacksmith's clutch on the reformer's throat. Koch denies that the tongue protruded. He says that Joyce assaulted the judge, but did not force him to put out his tongue.

Following the fight occurred the thing which brings the story down to the constable's return charging the three men with selling liquor illegally. Donahoe, filled with indignation, issued this manifesto on Wednesday:

Let McTighe back his patrol wagons into the lower avenues and pick up the thugs who contaminate our district. He must do

FLAMES SWEEP MANY STATES

Forests in New England and Canada a Prey to Fire.

LIVES IN JEOPARDY

Hundreds of Men Are Busy Fighting Back Blaze Fed by the Drought.

HELP SENT FROM NEW YORK

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 4.

Flaming forests and prairies, one appalling fruit of the long continued drought, have swept misery and woe down upon thousands of persons in various sections of the country and destruction to property valued at perhaps millions of dollars.

Practically all the New England states are in the heart of the danger zone. The dry underbrush and the timber are blazing in the Adirondacks, the Catskills and in other sections. In New Jersey the forests are afire. Few lives have been reported lost, but thousands are homeless. Two villages in Maine and another near St. John, N. B., have been destroyed.

Despite the desperate efforts of those whose lives and homes are imperiled, the fires are extending hourly, for such headway have they gained that to combat them is almost an impossibility.

Wealthy men find reinitives and their property endangered. From Albany Robert C. Pruyn went in a special train with a force of men to the aid of his son and a party of guests fire-beleagured in their camp in the burning Adirondacks. John D. Rockefeller and others who own immense estates in West Chester county have forces of men irrigating the woodland.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., June 4.—A telegram from Lake Placid tonight says that several lumber camps at South Meadows, near Cascade lake, a big boarding house in Rogers Bros.' logging camp about five miles from Lake Placid, and the barns of the Cascade Lake house were burned.

A report from W. H. Tracy, manager of St. Huberts Inn, says the fires are very serious near there. One hundred men armed with shovels, rakes and axes left here today for Loon Lake, where fires have started in the heavily timbered tracts owned by the International Paper Company. The Stony Wold sanitarium for consumptives at Lake Kushaqua is threatened with destruction.

ELLSWORTH, ME., June 4.—W. L. McClintock, a wealthy Pittsburgh man, lost his handsome $40,000 summer home and barn near Castine in the flames which are sweeping over Hancock county. This house has occupied a year and a half in building and was only completed a short time ago. The furniture has just been moved into it, preparatory to the owner's occupancy this summer. The villagers made every effort to save the buildings. They succeeded in getting out the furniture, but the buildings were destroyed. Another summer cottage owned by a Bostonian named Randall, on the Trask Rock trail, was burned together with most of the furniture.

The forest throughout Hancock county is rapidly being consumed by the fierce blazes in various townships and many costly sportsmen's camps have gone up in smoke. Two settlements in Aristook section have been wiped out.

W. L. McClintock is a member of the firm of Oliver McClintock & Co. He resides at 929 Ridge avenue, Allegheny.

GOV. WHITE HISSED AT BANKERS' BANQUET

West Virginia Executive's Reference to "Tax Dodgers'" Was Not Popular.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 4.—Gov. A. B. White was hissed long and loud tonight when responding to a toast at a banquet of the West Virginia Bankers' association. He was a guest of the association and had been placed upon the list of speakers without consultation, he said.

In the course of his remarks he referred to the bankers' association sending a committee to the legislature to oppose acceptance of the tax commissions' report, which increased the tax on banks. His first reference brought forth hisses. The governor reddened and his voice trembled as he proceeded and referred to the bankers of West Virginia as "tax dodgers."

"This may not be the place to say what I have said," declared the governor, "but you have placed me on your list of speakers, and Anglo-Saxon is my tongue."

He said he was a director in several banks and most of his income was from banks, but not one that he knew of paid the amount of tax required under the state law. He sat down amid hisses and cheers.

The association adopted a resolution declaring in favor of the repeal of the national bankruptcy law, selected Huntington for the next place for meeting, and elected the following officers: President, R. L. Archer, Huntington; secretary and treasurer, C. T. Hitteshew, Parkersburg; vice presidents, J. L. Harne, New Martinsville; U. B. McCandlish, Piedmont; Mason Mathews, Lewisburg; I. O. Reynolds, St. Marys, and Edward Mann, Bluefield.

SCORE CHAMBERLAIN AS A PROTECTIONIST

LONDON, June 4.—Letters are published this morning from Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Lord Spencer, Lord Ripon, Lord Tweedmouth and other Liberal leaders, all vigorously denouncing Mr. Chamberlain's imperial zollverein proposals as merely veiled protection. Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Lord Ripon contend that they would be a fruitful cause of dispute between the mother country and the colonies and of conflict with foreign countries.

ANGRY COWBOYS' AWFUL REVENGE UPON SETTLERS

Three Slain Because They Cut a Fence—Deweys Did the Shooting—Kansas Maintains Its Bloody Name.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

St. Francis, Kan., June 4.—Kansas, the home of many fierce battles before the war, was yesterday the scene of a bloody encounter that outrivals the antebellum feuds in carnage. Cowboys and two farmers were in a desperate battle.

The dead are: E. M. Berry, owner of the ranch; A. J. Berry, G. A. Berry. Mortally wounded: E. E. Berry. Seriously wounded: Sam Berry.

The four last named were sons of E. E. Berry.

The Berry version of the matter is that three of them were working in a field and two of them at the house, all unarmed, when a gang of the Dewey men headed by Chauncey Dewey, rode up and deliberately attempted to kill them. Dewey alleges that they went over to get a water tank that belonged to the land, that the Berrys opened fire on them and they did the killing in self-defense.

The coroner's jury finds that Chauncey Dewey, from behind a sod wall, killed one of the Berrys and mortally wounded another, and that the Berrys were absolutely unarmed.

Sheriff McCullough has Dewey and his men under arrest.

The Berry family had taken up a homestead claim and the fences of a cattle company were strung across his right of way. The Berrys cut the fence on the Dewey ranch and the cowboys threatened to kill the family. Recently the head of the Berry household and his four sons cut the fence about eight miles from home. A fight followed and John Berry was shot. A running battle then started, but the cowboys were outdistanced and the Berry family returned home. They were seated in front of their house when the cowboys arrived.

The shooting began immediately. Two of the Berry boys were killed before they could reach their rifles. The old man and the other two boys got inside the house. There were about 20 cowboys and they started on the gallop for the house, intending to fire it and burn the defenders out. The old man and the boys attempted to escape from the other side of the house and they were shot down in succession.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL BE HERE 20 MINUTES THIS MORNING.

President Theodore Roosevelt and party will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning at 8:40 on the president's special train on the Pennsylvania railroad. The train will remain in at the Union station 20 minutes, when it will leave on a slow schedule over the Allegheny mountains. Four hours will be consumed in making the trip to Altoona. It is said that the president has requested a slow ride over the mountains.

A telegram from Danville, Ill., to The Gazette last night, said:

"The last scheduled speech of President Roosevelt's trip was made here this evening, after which he went to Indianapolis, from which point he will go direct to Washington, passing through Pittsburgh. The last day of the trip was in a measure an easy one. Stops were made only at Lincoln, Springfield, Decatur and Danville.

"The principal speech of the day was delivered at Springfield, at the dedication of the new Armory building. The president gave a dinner on his private car this evening to the members of his party."

ELEVEN KILLED AND MANY HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

Conductor's Error Caused a Serious Smash-Up on the Santa Fe Railroad Near Stilwell, Kansas—Physicans Hurried to Scene.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Paola, Kan., June 4.—A Santa Fe train northbound and a special eastbound freight on the Missouri Pacific collided head-on, one mile north of Stilwell, this afternoon. Eleven persons were killed and 28 badly injured. A conductor's blunder is responsible for the wreck.

THE DEAD.

CARLOS M. TARPARDO, aged 21, a Porto Rican student at the Kansas State university.
FULLMAN CONDUCTOR THOMPSON.
H. B. WARD, address unknown.
FRANK HOOVER, Steubenville, O.
B. M'MAHON, Prescott, Ariz.
C. A. KNISKERN, Monett, Mo.
LINK DAY, Los Angeles, Cal.
WILLIAM NEWMILLER, Plainfield, N. J.
UNKNOWN MAN, aged 25, evidently a laborer.
TWO UNKNOWN TRAMPS.

Those of the injured identified are:
WILLIAM WOODS, Steubenville, O., ankle sprained.
OWEN PATCHMAN, Ottawa, Kan., jaw fractured.
OWEN PATCHIN, Ottawa, Kas., baggageman on eastbound train, fracture of skull and jaw; will probably die.
JOHN GREEN, leg broken.
A. L. SELLERS, North Manchester, Ind., aged 74 years, right arm fractured and chest injured; may die.
JOHN GREEN, Indianapolis, left leg fractured and scalp wounds.
EDWARD M'CANN, Salvation Army, back sprained.

The Wells Fargo express messenger is still under the wreckage. The dead are being taken to Olathe, and the injured to Kansas City.

From what can be learned there seems to have been a confusion of orders and a Santa Fe passenger train got upon the Missouri tracks. Near Stilwell it collided with a Missouri Pacific freight. The engine and coach have been detached and the greatest of difficulty is being experienced in reaching the victims.

WORDS OF PRAISE FOR ABE LINCOLN

President Roosevelt Gave a Touching Tribute to the Martyred Leader.

FOUND LOTS OF ENTHUSIASM

Big Crowds Gather at Various Cities to Bid Him Welcome—Closes His Western Trip With Masterly and Eloquent Addresses—Speeding Eastward.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, June 4.—President Roosevelt in his address today in Illinois made Lincoln the keynote. At Springfield where he assisted in a dedication he paid a touching tribute to the martyred president by remarking: "All of us now pay our tribute to the greatness that is achieved, all of us now looking back over the past 40 years can see the figure of Lincoln—sad, kindly, patient Lincoln—as it looms above his contemporaries, as it will loom ever larger through the centuries to come.

"It is a good thing for us by speech to pay homage to the memory of Abraham Lincoln; but it is an infinitely better thing for us in our lives to pay homage to his memory in the only way in which that homage can be effectively paid—by seeing to it that this republic's life, social and political, civic and industrial, is shaped now in accordance with the ideals which Lincoln preached and which all his life long he practiced."

PLEA FOR THE STRENUOUS.

During his speech the president also said:

"The greatness of our forefathers must serve not as an excuse to us for failing to do our duty in return, but as a spur to make us feel that we are doubly recreant—recreant to them as well as recreant to ourselves—if we fail to rise level with the standard they set. To the men of Lincoln's generation the supreme gift was given to be true to themselves in a great national crisis.

"Theirs was not the life of ease and life of comfort. For their good fortune they were given a duty hard to perform, but supremely well worth performing. I envy no man a life of ease and I feel little but contempt for him if his only ideal is to lead a life of ease. We should reserve our feeling of admiration for the men who have difficult work to do, but work eminently worth doing, and who do it well. (Applause.)

"The problems that face us as a nation today are the problems which Lincoln and the men of his generation had to face. Different methods must be devised for solving them, but the spirit with which Lincoln and his fellows in council, his followers in war, approached their problems or else the nation will fail. It will not fail. It will succeed because we still have in us the spirit of the men of '61.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING.

After the conclusion of the president's address the party went to Decatur, Ill., where a short stop was made and the train went to Danville. Here in spite of a drizzling rain President Roosevelt was greeted by 6,000 people. During his address he gave fulsome praise to Congressman Joseph Cannon, whom he said has assisted in correcting many improper expenditures of money in congress.

From Danville the train went into Indiana, the first stop being made at Indianapolis. A drizzling rain did not prevent 5,000 people from gathering to greet the president. The Marion club, headed by Mayor Bookwalter, served as the formal reception committee.

Gov. Durbin, Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge were on the train. The factory whistles and locomotives blew a greeting. There was a burst of enthusiastic cheers when the president appeared, fresh and smiling from his 14,000-mile trip. During his short talk some one in the crowd cried: "The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen is for Roosevelt." The president smiled and replied: "I know it. I feel that Indiana is solid for me."

Following his brief address, the president was escorted to the train amid cheers, and from the rear platform waved his adieus.

Bulletins received here tonight report the presidential train to be speeding on its way eastward, the route extending through Pittsburgh on the way to the nation's capital.

BIGELOW MAKES DENIALS.

Declares Removal of the Hump Will Cost Less Than $1,000,000.

Director Edward M. Bigelow of the department of public works disputes the assertion that the cost of removing the Fifth avenue hump will aggregate nearly $6,000,000, and says the cost will be even smaller than the $1,000,000 originally estimated.

The Philadelphia Company, D. F. Henry, owner of the Hotel Henry, and others argue that the city will have to pay damages for the cost of lowering the telegraph and telephone conduits, and of lowering street car tracks and will have to pay damages for any remodeling of buildings made necessary.

Mr. Bigelow said that if it were true that the Hotel Henry will have to be remodeled it is the fault of the man who built it, for the director furnished the grades which would result from the proposed cutting. Two buildings above the Hotel Henry, he said, have been built before the Hotel Henry, and yet their owners built them to conform to the new grade.

The Puritan, after striking the boat, rebounded and dashed Captain Bean against the wharf, death resulting instantly.

AULTMAN CREDITORS HOLD CONFERENCE

CLEVELAND, June 4.—One hundred creditors of the recently failed Aultman-Miller company of Akron, O., held an all-day conference here today. An offer of $750,000 from Judge Vincent of Chicago for the company's assets was made. The meeting is adjourned until Monday at Akron, where definite action will probably be taken.

PITTSBURGHER LANDS A QUICK KNOCKOUT

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—Tommy Felts of Savannah, defeated Clarence Forbes of Chicago in the 11th round of what was scheduled for 20 rounds at the West End club tonight. Young Kid McCoy of Pittsburgh, knocked out Billy Trueman of Brooklyn, in the shortest fight on record in this city, but two blows being struck, the second being a right uppercut, which knocked Trueman out.

Large Crowd at the Labor Carnival.

The crowd at the labor carnival last night was a large one. All the shows and attractions were liberally patronized. The Golden City of Jerusalem, which is a mechanical and electrical exhibition, was last night pronounced to be one of the best attractions on the grounds.

HERRICK HEADS OHIO'S TICKET

passed on to President Roosevelt and said:

"Our third duty is easier still, if that is possible. It is to elect Theodore Roosevelt to be his own successor. We intend to do this because he, like Senator Hanna, merits that honor. He has not only met, but has surpassed the expectations of his most ardent friends. They say he is quick on the trigger, but then he is a sure shot. He hits the bullseye every time, and we're all agreed that he is to be our candidate and that we will elect him president."

APPLAUDED ROOSEVELT'S NAME.

As the senator uttered these words a roar of applause greeted him that shook the building. It was a demonstration that gave the plainest evidence of how Ohio Republicans feel toward Roosevelt and at every mention of his name by nominating speakers the same enthusiasm was manifested.

As had been forecasted, the platform took a stand on the tariff, the trusts and other great questions of general importance that was significant, because it is believed to represent the attitude toward these questions that will be taken by the national convention next year.

Warren G. Harding, the only candidate who was recognized as a pronounced Foraker man, and upon which such a hot fight was made, was nominated by acclamation. Harding issued a statement last night denying that he was unfriendly to Hanna and the combined arguments of a number of Hanna's strongest lieutenants was not sufficient to induce Hanna to defeat Harding. It was admitted that Hanna could easily have done this if he had wanted to take a hand in the matter, but he refused to mix in. As a result Harding was nominated by M. M. Boothman, his strongest opponent, and his nomination was made by acclamation on motion of Captain J. J. Nutt, who ran second to Boothman in the opposition.

Col. Herrick was also nominated for governor by acclamation on the motion of Judge Alfred Douglas, who only withdrew from the gubernatorial race on the preceding day. Where there were contests for places on the ticket, they were of a friendly nature and provoked no ill-feeling. The fight against the third-term candidates was a success, as but one out of three was nominated, W. D. Guilbert, for auditor of state.

HANNA'S RETROSPECTIVE VIEW.

Senator Hanna said after the convention: "The results of the convention are perfectly satisfactory to me and should be to every loyal Republican in Ohio. Nothing has transpired either before or during the convention which will leave the slightest resemblance to a sting. As to any contests over the nomination of officers, I never for one moment intended to let my personal preference enter into the situation to an extent that would cause anything but the best of good feeling in every section of the state."

Senator Foraker said he was highly pleased with the ticket nominated and predicted that it would be elected by a big majority.

Col. Herrick, the nominee for governor, said: "I feel honored by the nomination tendered me by acclamation. The campaign will open about September 15 and we will go to work with the idea of making a good showing for the entire ticket. Personally, I shall insist upon Gen. Dick remaining as chairman of the state executive committee."

It is understood that General Dick is willing to continue this work.

ROOSEVELT'S INDORSEMENT.

The three interesting features of the platform, those relating to the indorsement of President Roosevelt's candidacy, the tariff, and the deepening of the Ohio river so that it will be navigable the whole year round, are as follows:

We commend President Roosevelt's fidelity to duty, his adherence to President McKinley's policies, and his own proved ability in his high office, showing him in every way worthy of election by the people to be their chief magistrate. We favor his nomination for president in 1904. The Ohio Republican delegation in congress has honored the state in both houses. Senators Joseph B. Foraker and Marcus A. Hanna have splendidly maintained Ohio's leadership. The re-election of Senator Hanna is a distinct national demand upon our state, and we hereby pledge him the undivided support of the entire Republican party of Ohio.

The protective policy of the Republican party has made the United States the greatest industrial nation, astonished the world with the tremendous development of our boundless resources, has added vastly to our foreign commerce, has greatly increased the prosperity of the farmer and has advanced the price of labor to the best scale of living ever attained. We oppose all attacks upon this policy, whatever the pretext, as tending to bring back the disastrous days of Democratic tariff revision and free trade. Changing conditions and the possible benefit of reciprocity may call for timely readjustment of schedules, but protection as a principle and as a policy must be administered by the friend of American prosperity and must not be sacrificed.

Combinations for the monopoly of trade and kindred unlawful purposes are directly amenable to penalties provided by Republican legislation and their vigorous enforcement in the courts. No worthy interest is imperilled, but whatever will work public harm is restrained and corrected. The Democratic plan of destroying all American industries through tariff revision or otherwise. If further legislation can be found necessary the Republican party can be depended upon to enact and enforce with equity and safety in every legitimate enterprise.

The question of transportation is one of the most important business problems now before the American people for determination. The full utilization of our inland waterways is demanded by all business interests. We therefore favor the continued improvement by the general government of the Ohio river, that a navigable stage of water may be maintained the entire year.

The platform also indorses the records of Gov. Nash and Senators Foraker and Hanna, approves the new municipal code, reviews and commends the record of the Republican party and pays much attention to purely state affairs.

WHEAT BROUGHT PLAGUE TO CALLAO

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(Special.)—Bacteriologists in Peru believe that the plague was brought to Callao in wheat imported from Australia or India. All of the cases in the city originated in the mill of Milne & Co., where flour is made from wheat coming from both countries. All of the flour sent from this mill has been traced and every effort has been made to prevent further spread of the plague by this means.

EASY TO CAPSIZE AND SOON DROWNED

NEW HAVEN, June 4.—(Special.)—Earl Gibbons, 15 years old, son of Dr. R. H. Gibbons this afternoon tried to prove to Charles Fisher, his chum, that it would be easy to capsize a canoe in which they sat on Lake Whitney. Gibbons was drowned. His body has not been found. Fisher saved himself by clinging to the canoe.

Permits will be given them to work until Tuesday, when they can be initiated and receive proper working cards. The bricklayers' annual election takes place tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. Returned Evil for Good.

Clyde Morgan of Milesville, a patient at the McKeesport hospital, was yesterday granted permission to take a walk outside the hospital. It is alleged he got drunk and was arrested. When he was about to be released a message was received at the police station stating that a ring belonging to a nurse and a gold watch disappeared when Morgan left the hospital. The ring was found in Morgan's possession. He will be held for investigation.

P. J. DONAHOE IS A DEFENDANT

this. We are tired of living in the midst of vice, among the late speakeasy owners and gamblers who are swearing vengeance because the present administration caused them to suspend their unlawful traffic.

I have gone to the police officials and they have promised to make the downtown streets respectable. I will give them ample time to perform the work. If they do not pay heed to our complaints we will find another way to reform the lower wards. The respectable people downtown have stood a heap of abuse for years. Our patience is exhausted. We have permitted the police to isolate the worst element of the town in our midst. We are now rebellious and want justice done.

CONSTABLE NOCK'S STORY.

Constable Peter Nock of the Fourth ward, a follower of Donahoe and elected to office on the reform ticket, appeared in court Monday to make his return. He was asked by Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb if liquor was not being sold illegally in the Fourth Ward Republican club, at No. 315 Liberty street. Nock said he had no knowledge of the alleged law-breaking and did not make any return. Yesterday morning he received a letter from Robb to go to the court house. Robb told him that he had been informed that Donahoe, Koch and Schmershall should be returned for illegal liquor selling, and told the constable to make the return. In telling the story last night Koch said:

"I stepped down to see our ward chairman, 'Paddy' Garrity, and he told me to do what I had been ordered to do. The names were written in the return and I went back to the court house and the paper was presented to the court. I have been at the club several times, but never saw any liquor sold. I think the trouble grows out of the bad feeling politically between the First, Third and Fourth wards."

HAYMAKER HAS LETTERS.

The district attorney's office has received letters complaining about the sale of liquor at the Fourth Ward Republican club. Mr. Haymaker says he cannot make known the authors of these letters. He will today issue processes for the three men named in the return, and the grand jury has fixed next Thursday for hearing testimony.

Koch lives in the Fourth ward and was recently appointed by Mayor Hays to the office of dockmaster. Last evening he denied that he was guilty of selling liquor. He says that neither he nor Donahoe are officers in the Fourth ward club. The organization has been at its present location for two weeks, and Koch says that none but members are admitted. He describes the club as just being like all other clubs. Koch claims that a man who wanted the Citizens to make him a sewer inspector and failed to get the job wrote to the district attorney charging that the club is a speakeasy. He also accuses First and Third ward politicians with retaliating on Donahoe for his thug manifesto.

Schmershall jokes about the prosecution. When asked if he was an officer of the club he replied:

"I don't know whether I am or not. We sell anything down here. Why, we would sell the ward if we wanted to. I am in favor of putting out a sign: 'The Bar's Open.' There are a lot of soreheads around the ward who don't know when they are licked. They are trying to raise trouble."

M'TIGHE BACKED THE WAGON.

While the district attorney's office was at work on the constable's return, Police Superintendent John P. McTighe was busy obeying the Donahoe manifesto. He sent the wagon down into the First and Third wards and it went back to headquarters ladened with men who will this morning have to answer to charges of corner loafing or being suspicious characters.

The records at police headquarters show that these men were arrested charged with being suspicious persons: Hugh Callighan, Fred Manning, Joseph Fernes, James Richards, Charles Schoder. They were released on $30 forfeits to appear at the hearing this morning. Those charged with corner loafing are Ed Bertram, C. B. Miller, C. Wilson, Hugh Burns, R. Scheibrick, John Harrity, Charles Haines. By depositing $30 each the men were released for a hearing.

KRAMER WINS OUT.

Champion Bicyclist Defeats McFarland After Competitors Tried to Pocket Him.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 4.—Frank Kramer won both of the intermediate finishes which came at the close of the afternoon and evening riding at the six-day racing at the coliseum. He has lost these events but once since the race began.

Tonight an attempt was seemingly made to pocket the champion, but he extricated himself and won by two feet in an exciting finish with McFarland. So far no team has succeeded in gaining a lap on its rivals. To date the riders have covered 298 miles, 42 miles of which were accomplished tonight at the close of the two hours riding.

THRILLING MOMENT FOR 18 PASSENGERS

Another frightful collision was narrowly averted in Rankin yesterday morning between car No. 21 on the Rankin division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company and the New York and Washington express of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The car contained 18 passengers and after rounding the curve at the Fleet street crossing started across the railroad tracks. The express was running at a rapid rate and when within 75 yards of the crossing the engineer saw the car, and blew his whistle and threw on the brakes. The car was stopped just as the express flew past, the drivers on the engine almost touching the front platform of the car. One passenger leaped from the car and fell in a faint on the street from fright. There are no safety gates at the crossing.

M'KEESPORT—William Burns, a boy, was yesterday returned to Morganza by the police. He says he left his home in Syracuse, N. Y., after the death of his parents two years ago. He was given in charge of a West End family and recently ran away.

STEALING A MARCH.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(Special.)—Swift & Co. will attempt to steal a march on the board of health and build an abattoir in the city. Some time ago a law was passed giving this privilege to small butchers, and it is likely that the largest packers will profit by it. Before the law was passed the board of health refused to grant a transfer of a slaughtering permit to Swift & Co., and now in retaliation this company has filed with the building department plans for a six-story fireproof abattoir to be put up on the vacant plot at Forty-fifth street and First avenue, immediately adjoining the completed structure.

There is no equivocation about the move. The plans, with full specifications, as required by law, were filed with the department for approval on June 3 and the specific statement is that it is to be used as an abattoir. It will be passed on by the official examiners in two or three days. If approval is had the work of construction can then begin when the owners please. C. P. GRENEKER.

Seeks to Recover Fees.

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 4.—A. T. Gunnell has brought suit in the district court against W. K. Gillet and the Denver & Southwestern Railway Company to recover judgment in the sum of $100,000 alleged to be due as attorney's fees for work done in connection with the settlement of the receiver rate war between the Denver & Southwestern, of which Mr. Gillet is president, and the Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District railway.

Injured in Fall from Window.

Joseph Cafisky, 42 years old, living at No. 14 Pine street, was found under the second-story window of his home last night in an unconscious condition. His right arm and leg are fractured and he is badly bruised about the face. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital in a patrol wagon. It is not known whether he fell or jumped from the window.

Butchers Were Fined.

For disobeying the order of the police bureau to close on Sundays Linhel & Schwartz, shutchers of No. 1824 Center avenue, were fined $5 and costs by Alderman James R. Connor last night. Police Inspector Bernard McStay was the prosecutor. At the hearing he alleged that the firm keeps its shop closed on Saturdays, but opens every Sunday morning.

HOUSE LIKE A FURNACE,

is an expression one often hears this warm weather. No wonder, when you use coal. It's dirty, wasteful and the fire isn't out for hours after you are through with it. Heats the whole house up. Natural gas is the only remedy—turn off the gas and the fire's out, the house cool. No dirt or smoke. If you apply this month at the Philadelphia Company, 435 Sixth avenue, you can have meter set and service connections made free.

CLUB ORGANIZED, BUT LACKS NAME

It Is to Be to Pittsburgh What the Clover Is to Philadelphia or the Gridiron to Washington.

MEMBERS ARE BRIGHT MEN

John A. Brashear Elected President. Roasting Began Immediately After the Banquet Was Over — Original Song Dedicated to the Body.

Without a name as yet, but with a very definite purpose, a club was formed by the election of officers at a dinner given at the Union club last evening. To Pittsburgh and its social life this club is to bear the relation that the Clover club bears to Philadelphia, the Lotus club to New York, the Gridiron club to Washington, and the Skull and Bones to Chicago. It is, in short, and aggregation of intelligent and witty personalities of the city, and in its meetings it is expected will develop, as in other cities, the right to criticise the conduct of public affairs.

John A. Brashear was elected president of the club after a contest in which Robert Pitcairn was the opposition candidate. It was stated by a friend of Mr. Pitcairn that he was not a candidate for the honor for several reasons. Mr. Brashear also withdrew, pleading excess of work already, but his friends refused to consider his withdrawal. The election was unanimous.

THE OTHER OFFICERS.

The vice president is Justice W. D. Porter of the superior court; the secretary, James Francis Burke, to whom a vote of thanks was tendered for his successful work in organizing the club; the treasurer, William Montgomery, the banker. The membership of the board of directors is Arthur G. Burgoyne, C. A. Rock, Walter L. Lyon, J. A. Brashear, Robert Pitcairn and J. L. Dawson.

Few gatherings of Pittsburgh men have been marked by the brightness of wit and thought and good fellowship that ruled at the meeting of the club last evening. It was the first gathering, all the preliminaries having been arranged by a few who had been selected by the promoters of the idea to bring to the entire membership the pivpotition.

The "Crucible club," a name that is supposed to signify at once the industrial character of the city and the "roasting" character of the organization, was much favored by the promoters of the plan, but several other names, such as "The Rarebit Club," "An Evening Off," etc., were suggested. The suggestions became so numerous that the master of ceremonies, James F. Burke, hailed with relief the motion that the naming of the organization should be put up to the board of governors.

THEN THE TROUBLE STARTED.

Even the serving of an excellent menu could not long delay the starting of the jollity of the evening. When Judge Porter had introduced Mr. Burke as master of ceremonies, and Mr. Burke in turn had introduced Col. A. J. Logan, the fun of the evening began and each speaker in turn was subjected to raillery and banter never before equalled at a Pittsburgh banquet. Col. Logan presented a picture of Mayor W. B. Hays and moved that it be made the official mark of the club. Mr. Harper immediately objected, claiming that it was not the picture of the real mayor of the city. He was promptly appointed a committee of one to investigate. In a moment he had disclosed a portrait of Murry Vernor beneath Mayor Hays's picture with the inscription, "Murry Verner, I. Reform Dynasty." Half a dozen challengers took the floor and one insisted that to find the real mayor a statue should be brought in from Schenley park.

Harry Alvin Hall, who was next introduced, told of his interview with Senator M. S. Quay and of the dissertation on gold bricks which the senior senator from Pennsylvania gave, and finally produced the gold brick which Quay had, he said, entrusted to him to deliver to "R. F. P." or Robert Pitcairn, through Walter Lyon. "The Pennsylvania was not for Elkin," he said. "It thought Penny-poker would approve all it asked, but P. F. has vetoed anything they wanted. Even the bill allowing the condemnation of homesteads failed."

Between D. L. Gillespie, who wished to sell an old political machine, and John Marron, who offered a newone with all modern attachments, a spirited competition arose, but was forgotten before long.

About this time telegraph messengers rushed into the rooms with telegrams alleged to be from President Roosevelt to James S. Young, United States attorney here from Czar Nicholas II. to Murry Verner and from George J. Gould to Robert Pitcairn. They were read amid applause. Two of them follow:

FROM THE RUSSIAN CZAR.

Royal Palace, St. Petersburg.

Dear Murry—Your proposition to build street railway lines on all the streets of St. Petersburg at the expiration of the one and your kind offer to relieve the Russian government of the entire burden of collecting and spending the earnings, has been laid before councils by Alderman Kashinsky, the gentleman who spent three weeks in America.

The board refused to grant the concession, for the reason that they have some delicate relations with John Pinkerton McTighe as a menace to Russian interests. Russia has always been for an open door and we are told McTighe has ordered everything from side doors to jack pots closed till after the next election.

I am sorry your crown don't fit and that your throne is in danger. You left a bran new hair plating machine on your mantel the day you left the palace. I'll keep it for use in my talks with Emperor William. In exchange, however, send a bottle of Russian hair restorer, which I wish you would hand to my friend Bill Gibson.

When Murry, I hear the Slosk strike 12, which is a sign of lateness, and as the czarina has a big washing tomorrow, and I have to address the convention of 24 Reformers before noon, I will bid you adieu. Love to Quay and Flinn,

CZAR NICHOLAS II.

GOULD TO PITCAIRN.

Office of George J. Gould, New York City.

Robert Pitcairn, Esq., Pittsburgh, Pa.:

My dear friend Robert: George Washington and his little hatchet made that cherry tree look like 50 cents, but you with your Rubbard axe made the Western Union system look like a plugged nickel.

We never realized the full meaning of wireless telegraphy until Cassatt and you tenderly laid our poles to rest on the banks of the Penny.

If you ever walk in your sleep, we wish you would give one of our Wabash engines a chance to meet you. I will guarantee it would approach you without ringing a bell, blowing a whistle, or resorting to any other unseemly conduct that would cause you to waken or leave the track.

I do not know whether you like New York, but if you ever take a notion to cross the Hudson, I hope you will be sure to drop in. Affectionately yours,

GEORGE J. GOULD.

In the course of the evening the following song, composed by Arthur G. Burgoyne was sung with great effect:

EASILY SATISFIED.

All I want is fifty million dollars,
Pittsburgh bank and trust stocks mountains high,
If I only owned the site of the cathedral
And had cash enough the trolley parks to buy;
If the Olivers would let me run their papers,
If I only had an income for my wife,
If I owned Herrs Island just like Emil Winter,
Then I know that I'd be satisfied with life.

All I want is A. Carnegie's income,
Partridge and champagne at ev'ry meal,
With Robert Pitcairn waiting on the table
And Victor Herbert's orchestra to "spiel."
If I only owned the councils of the city,
If Schenley park were settled with my wife;
If I had the legislature in my pocket,
Then I know that I'd be satisfied with life.

All I want is everybody's money—
With more in sight whenever I run short,
If I only owned the brewing trust entire,
And had a mortgage on the license court.
If I had Murry Verner's pull in Russia,
If Hetty Green would only be my wife,
If the Bigelow's would present me with the city,
Then I know that I'd be satisfied with life.

ORDINANCE WAS DEFACED.

Allegheny Police Magistrate's Salary Is Fixed, but Investigation Is Ordered.

Allegheny common council last night passed the ordinance defining the police districts and fixing the salary of the magistrate in the Third district at $1,200. The ordinance was held up at the last meeting of the common branch because the Third ward had been omitted from the ordinance.

After the passage of the bill President Samuel McCleary announced that the ordinance had been defaced by some one who had, he said, tried to make erasures. He appointed Messrs. McHenry, Duff and Bennie a committee to inquire into the matter.

A resolution was passed granting G. A. R. Post No. 128 the free use of the city electric light until April, 1904.

William M. Hain is a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE DIES AFTER BEING CUT DOWN

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Ida Coursen of North Brighton, Staten Island, found the body of a strange man hanging in the transom of a door in her house at midnight tonight. He was cut down and revived, but would give no account of himself. While the man was being taken down the stairs he sank into the police man's arms and died. Who the man was, how he entered the house, or what his motive was in hanging himself, are mysteries.

Director James W. Clark of the department of public charities said yesterday that he had had a meeting with Kerr & Fox, the contractors who built the new main building at Marshalsea; that architect Wilson had been effected and that the city would accept the building. The city had refused to take it until the contractors repainted some portions from which the paint had peeled off.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., June 4.—(Special.)—Tonight Chief of Police Strayer and Policeman Cowan were notified that thieves were at work in the idle mills of the Crucible Steel Company. MAY BE WABASH LINE TO WEST VIRGINIA

Maps Filed for Pittsburgh, Elk & Southern Road Through Clarksburg.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., June 4.—Important developments became public here today concerning the Pittsburgh, Elk & Southern Railway Company, lately organized. Maps and profiles have been filed in the office of the clerk of the county court.

The charter of the road calls for a line "commencing at a point on the state line of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, at or near Blacksville, Monongalia county, thence by the most practicable route to Clarksburg, thence up Elk creek to Brushy Fork, thence along Brushy Fork creek to the headwaters thereof, thence to the junction of Buckhannon and Tygarts Valley rivers, thence to the town of Hellington, Barbour county."

It is thought here this is the true Wabash line from Pittsburgh to Bellington, as it runs through the Pittsburgh coal fields and runs through the best agricultural districts in the state and through the gas and oil region. It is thought the Wabash will take this route to make its connection from Pittsburgh to the West Virginia Central at Bellington.

BOTH PREPARED SCALES.

Machinists and Manufacturers Are Apart on Some Subjects.

The scale of the local unions of the International Association of Machinists expires June 30, and the question whether a scale will be signed for the coming year will come up. The manufacturers want a scale so the men will work a year without a change in wages. The machinists want a minimum rate only.

The manufacturers are drawing up a scale and the machinists already have prepared one. The article in the agreement that will be fought hard by the manufacturers reads that "during the term of the agreement there shall be employed in the shops only members of the International Association of Machinists or persons agreeable thereto." At present any machinist can work in the shops so long as he works for nothing less than the minimum rate. The agreement also asks for an advance of 15 per cent. A conference is to be held in a few days.

New Cars for Panhandle.

To meet the demands for additional accommodations on the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, 55 cars, now in process of building, will be added. They include coaches, baggage and mail cars. The Columbus shops have the cars under construction are: Three 70-foot combination coach and baggage, equipped with electric lights; five 70-foot baggage, mail and express cars, one postal and three 60-foot horse express cars. At the Altoona shops there are 21 vestibuled passenger coaches and nine 60-foot baggage and express cars being built. In the Allegheny shops there are eight baggage and express cars under construction.

Favors New Auto Ordinance.

Director Harry Mohre of the department of public safety is in favor of the new automobile ordinance pending in councils. The ordinance provides that a record of the numbers of automobile licenses shall be kept at the police headquarters and that all automobiles shall have the number in large letters on the back of the vehicle. This will enable the owners of the autos to be found in case an accident takes place and the machine speeds off.

Youth Threw Brick Into Car.

Charles Gardner, aged 8, of Ann street, was locked in No. 2 police station last night on a charge of throwing a brick through the window of a traction car at Wylie avenue and Congress street.

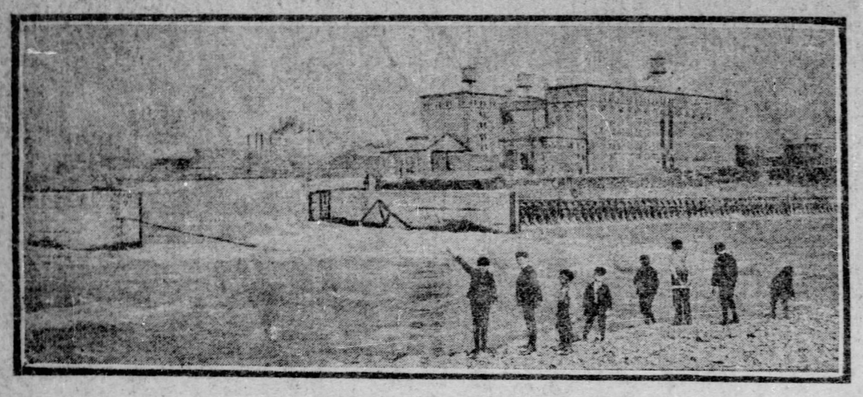
HERRS ISLAND DAM NOW HOLDS WATER



The completion of the Herrs Island dam marks an epoch in the history of the industries along the Allegheny valley. Three dams are under construction and the engineers in charge say it is feasible to slackwater the Allegheny river for over 250 miles, which is above Olean, N. Y. The plans for the Herrs Island dam were made by J. W. Arras, assistant engineer in the local United States engineer's office, while in charge of Capt. William L. Sibert.

The dam is located at Twenty-second street, Pittsburgh, and stretches across the Allegheny river. It is 712 feet long, exclusive of the locks. The dam is 13 feet above the sill and elevates the water seven feet above the Davis Island dam pool. The locks are 55 feet in width and 290 feet long, capable of taking care of any craft which the traffic of the future Allegheny might need.

The movable part of the dam is 500 feet long, stretching from the Pittsburgh side of the river to the great bear traps on the Allegheny side. The movable dam is composed of the "Chanoine" French type of wickets, the same as used in the Davis Island dam. Two weirs, 95 feet long, form the greatest bear traps in operation and are the first heavy rigged steel bear traps ever put in working order.

The cost of the dam is a little less than $800,000. It is the first dam to be completed for slackwatering the Allegheny river. No. 2 is five miles further up the river and is under construction. No. 3 is nearly finished and is 10 miles above No. 2. No. 3 is already built one foot above low water, and the locks are completed. It will be finished this year.

SAID SHE WOULD KILL HERSELF AND SHE DID

Mrs. Helen Thom of Allegheny Waited for a Train to Come Along and Threw Herself Under the Wheels.

After telling a neighbor that she would commit suicide before the night was over, Mrs. Helen Thom, aged 55, wife of Frank Thom of No. 1205 Fisk street, Allegheny, threw herself in front of a shifting engine at the North avenue crossing of the Fort Wayne road shortly before 8 o'clock last night, and was so horribly mangled that she died within a few minutes. While the woman lay rapidly bleeding to death in Irwin avenue, the Allegheny General hospital ambulance was held for more than five minutes by a freight train that was standing on the crossing. Just as the ambulance drew up the woman breathed her last and the morgue wagon was telephoned for.

From a number of those who saw the woman killed, it was learned that she deliberately threw herself in front of a shifting engine.

Mrs. Thom was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Cochrane of the Allegheny police for acting disorderly. She was discharged and returned to her home, where, it is said, she continued drinking that had begun early in the day.

She told a Mrs. Snyder, who lives at No. 1204 Fisk street, that she was going to commit suicide and shortly after 7 o'clock last night, after quarreling with her husband, she left the house and walked down Buena Vista street and along North avenue to the Fort Wayne tracks. As she was intoxicated she was followed by a number of children. According to the stories told by Gertrude Matthews of No. 720 Ellsworth avenue, Helen Taylor of No. 714 Ellsworth avenue and Emma Gibbon of No. 718 Ellsworth avenue, the woman crossed the tracks to Irwin avenue and grabbing the little Gibbon girl began striking her. The gates started down and releasing her hold on the girl the woman walked under the gates and when the engine was right upon her threw herself in front of it. Her legs were cut off and her skull fractured.

BIG ISSUE OF BONDS

Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company Will Use Proceeds to Increase Its Business.

Stockholders of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company yesterday unanimously voted to authorize the issue of $1,000,000 6-per cent bonds, of which $400,000 will be treasury bonds. The bonds will be secured by a mortgage on the company's properties, the trustee being the Colonial Trust Company. The bonds will be payable in gold and free of tax. They will be retired at the rate of $200,000 a year, commencing June 1, 1905. A portion of the proceeds from these bonds will be used in the development of the immense oil and gas acreage owned by the company in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana and Texas.

The natural gas interests of the company are now supplying 23 towns in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana. Contracts have been made for several other towns, and by early fall the company will be supplying gas to about 30 towns, with a total population of close to 200,000. The company's oil production is about 2,200 barrels a day, the largest portion of this being highest grade Pennsylvania oil. This production will be largely increased during the summer.

It is conservatively estimated that the net profits of the company for the first year will be fully $800,000. A sinking fund will be provided for the bonds, and the policy of the company will be to pay a dividend on the stock of 8 per cent a year, beginning quarterly dividends probably next month.

The directors of the company are T. N. Barnsdall, Charles Donnelly, F. H. Skelding, cashier of the First National bank, Pittsburgh; Robert C. Hall, E. P. Whitcomb, A. W. Lewis, William Barnsdall, A. B. Baxter, and William F. Messimer of Delaware, O.

Increased Capital Stock.

A certificate of increase of capital stock was filed at the secretary of state's office, Dover, Del., yesterday, for the Union Natural Gas Corporation of Pittsburgh, from $8,000,000 to $9,000,000. The incorporators are Charles Donnelly, Pittsburgh; W. J. Burke, Allegheny; Henry McSweeney, Oil City and Theodore N. Barnesdale, Bradford.

TOY PISTOLS CAUSED DEATH OF TWO BOYS

Blood Poison Set in After the Youthful Shooters Had Been Wounded.

Two youthful victims of firearms expired yesterday of blood poison. Adam Senert, 12 years old, son of Henry Senert, died yesterday at his home, Brinton avenue, Braddock, of blood poison caused by a wound from a toy pistol. The boy fired the pistol on Saturday night and wounded his finger slightly. The pistol is one of the 25-cent kind that fires blank cartridges. There are ordinances against the sale of them in Pittsburgh.

Richard Sloan, aged eight, of Carnegie, shot himself on Memorial day by the premature discharge of a pistol. He was shooting blank cartridges and when the revolver was fired a piece of the cartridge wad made a wound in his left hand. Blood poison followed a few days later and caused his death at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

Michael Maraha, a laborer, 27 years old, of Munhall, fell into a pit in the Homestead steel works at 10:30 o'clock last night and was killed. He leaves a widow. He was a laborer.

The inquest into the death of Frederick Collins, the coachman who was murdered and his body found at Center avenue and Aliquippa street, on April 7, was adjourned yesterday until June 18 by Coroner Jesse M. McGeary because important witnesses were absent.

While his train was passing the old Port Perry station about 9 o'clock last night, William Ennis, a fireman on a Baltimore & Ohio express train, was knocked from the engine cab and almost instantly killed. It is thought Ennis was leaning out of the cab door and was struck by a telegraph pole. The train was stopped and the fireman's body was placed in the baggage car and taken to McKeesport. His neck was broken, one leg cut off and his head was badly crushed. Another fireman was secured and the train continued its journey eastward. Ennis lived at Glenwood.

Joseph Mazar, a miner, was killed by a fall of slate at Heidelberg yesterday.

The death of a man supposed to be John Camundi was reported to the coroner last night from Mercy hospital. He died at 10 o'clock from consumption. The hospital authorities picked the man up at Carson and South Second streets last Monday while the hospital ambulance was returning from a call in that vicinity.

SAILOR REES ARRESTED.

He Is Charged With Being the Man Who Used the Rifle in Sunday's Riot.

County Detective Robert G. Robinson arrested William Rees, known as the "Sailor," at his home yesterday morning at Virginia avenue and Jewel street, Mt. Washington, and committed him to jail on a charge of murdering Charles Kelly, who was killed in the riot at High Bridge, West Liberty, Sunday. The commitment was made by Coroner Jesse M. McGeary on information received from Detective Robinson. The county officer said last night that he had three witnesses who could identify Rees as the man who stood behind the small outhouse and shot Kelly in the chicken coop.

The rioters cheered as the man came from William B. Hays' home Sunday with a rifle in his hands. As he crouched behind the house to take a shot at Kelly and Davis, the crowd yelled: "Give it to him, Sailor!"

When arrested Rees admitted having been on the scene of the riot, but denied that he was a participant. Rees is 21 years old.

Investigating Federal Mine Disaster.

Deputy Coroners Charles Bender and Louis Huchel, went to Federal yesterday afternoon to take testimony in relation to the mine explosion there, May 26, in which William Nelson, James Neilson, Jr., Jacob L. Saylor and Joseph Snack lost their lives. Mine Inspector James G. Blick and six others were called on to testify. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

Friday, June 5, 1903.

The recent horrible evidences of the persecution to which the Jewish race is exposed in Russia will give special interest to the proceedings of the Federation of American Zionists, whose sixth annual convention begins in this city Saturday next. Delegates are coming from all over the country, and there will be a representative expression of Zionist sentiment among the Jewish population of this country. The movement for the repatriation of the Jews has many difficulties with which to contend, but the prospect is sufficiently favorable to inspire enthusiastic effort. It is not a hopeless undertaking to open Palestine to Jewish settlement on a large scale, and with the application of modern appliances to the development of its resources the country would again be able to support a large population.

It was hardly worth while for one of our city contemporaries, which essayed the task, to endeavor to attach significance to the circumstance that Senator Hanna, in his address as temporary chairman of the Ohio Republican convention, while paying "a high tribute to the Roosevelt administration," "made no reference to the president's candidacy for re-election." What Senator Hanna said, however, was in fact a stronger indorsement of Roosevelt for election in 1904 than if he had anticipated the action of the convention by advocating in set words the adoption of the plank which everyone knew would be put in the platform. Senator Hanna paid a tribute to Roosevelt the man and to Roosevelt the president from a full heart, or the English language is incapable of truly revealing the orator to his audience. Nothing is lacking of earnestness or sincerity in Hanna's expressed approval of Roosevelt, and the only inference that can be properly drawn from it is that he is devoted—heart, soul and mind—to the return of the successor of McKinley to the White House for four more years.

Mayor Falkenstein of McKeesport is nothing if not gallant. By a recent official announcement he has declared that the ladies of McKeesport shall have the right of way on the sidewalks of that city. The order was issued after his honor had received a number of complaints against the offensive practice of a portion of McKeesport's male population, which congregated upon the sidewalks and thereby obstructed these public highways to such an extent that ladies found it not only unpleasant, but difficult to make their way along some of the streets. In issuing the order the mayor courageously declares that while he is not sure the ruling is supported by law or ordinance the exigencies of the case are such that he feels justified in giving his gallant mandate all the authority and force of a municipal law. There will be few persons either in McKeesport or out of it who will not commend the spirit and action of the mayor. By all means give the ladies the right of way. If men are so far forgetful of their duties and their manners as to persist in obstructing the highway, clap a fine on them or lodge them in jail as a means of teaching them proper 20th century deference to the fair sex. Incidentally, there is a similar broad and uncultivated field of endeavor in Pittsburgh, and if Mayor Falkenstein will pay us a visit and after looking over the bunch of pike town rubbers who infest some of our principal thoroughfares, will promise to put into operation here his McKeesport order, he will have our vote and as many other votes as we can secure for him.

Writing from incomplete telegraph advices we erred in saying that Attorney General Knox had just passed upon the question whether a firm, one of whose members was in the postoffice department, was eligible as a bidder for a department contract. The opinion was in fact rendered last winter, but has just been made public, and present importance is attached to it from its supposed bearing upon the charges now made against Mr. Machen, based upon his alleged participation in the profits of the sale of letter box fasteners to the government. It is intimated that Mr. Machen's defense will be that he was a silent partner in the firm, and that the money paid to him was not a commission or a bonus, but his share as a partner. If this defense has legal merit the court is the place to present it. The case submitted to Attorney General Knox related to contracts for coal supply, and the point was whether a bid made by a firm of which Machen was a member could be considered. The case in regard to the letter box fasteners is very different. Coal is a staple article which many dealers can supply, and the award was made to the lowest bidder. A letter box fastener is a special device, choice of which is an act of preference in the exercise of official discretion. For a man to be interested as a vendor in an article which he selects for use in his capacity as representative of the government is plainly graft.

There seems to be a genuinely determined effort on the part of the county authorities, urged on by District Attorney Haymaker, to ferret out and punish the guilty participants in the disgraceful riot that took place in West Liberty borough last Sunday afternoon. Whatever may result in way of subsequent conviction for the men already held under suspicion, their prompt arrest shows a commendable purpose on the part of the authorities to not only punish the guilty in the present instance, but also foreshadows an equal determination to break up the lawlessness that has so long disgraced the outlying territory immediately adjacent to the city line. There is no question of race antipathy involved in the occurrence at High Bridge, notwithstanding the seeming effort on the part of some people to make it appear so. The rioting and shooting followed as the natural results of the congregating for unlawful purposes of a number of men who by habit and training are not accustomed to the ordinary restraints of law or trained in the art of self-control under provocation. One lesson of the incident that should not escape attention is the need for strict enforcement of the law against carrying concealed weapons. As the accounts of the High Bridge altercation grow in detail it becomes a question whether there wasn't a pistol in nearly every hip pocket present. The carrying of concealed weapons is a common and widespread evil which, by the way, seems more general among youths and boys than among men of riper years and discretion.

The Voice of Ohio.

In the Ohio Republican state convention yesterday three nominations were made without a contest and three were made by ballot. The contests were of state interest only, but were reminders that the proceedings were not cut and dried to make an appearance of harmony. Where there was complete unanimity it was wholly in deference to the popular will, which had been ascertained through popular discussion and by the enlightening action of county conventions. When the convention assembled it had been settled in advance by means of these agencies that Herrick should be named for governor and Harding for lieutenant governor, that there should be a strong tariff plank and above all that the convention should indorse Roosevelt for election to the presidency in 1904. All this was done, according to expectation. But unlike many results that are easily foreseen, the outcome was not due to the working of a carefully adjusted and well-oiled machine, but to the responsiveness of delegates and leaders to the unmistakable demand of the rank and file of the party—the men who do the voting and give majorities for Republican candidates and policies. In answer to that demand there was no note of discord.

Outside of Ohio interest naturally centered on the tariff plank and the Roosevelt indorsement, but more for the wording of the resolutions than for any other reason. The Roosevelt indorsement is framed in simple, cordial and direct language. The tariff plank is as strong as it was expected to be. It is of the unmistakably "stand pat" order, and intended as a protest against that other school of protection thought which sees no sacredness in schedules, but is no less sincere in its advocacy of protection than is the Ohio school. They are one in purpose, differing only in point of view, and aiming at one goal for the common good. At the moment the protectionists who adhere to established schedules have the ear of the people, and will doubtless hold it until the elections of next year have marked out the course of the nation along Republican lines of policy for another four years.

The plank relating to trade combinations has been less thought of, perhaps because indorsement of the president for re-election naturally carried with it all that might be said in that connection. The expression is satisfactory, however, being abreast of the best thought on the subject, answering the public demand without tinge of demagogy. The plank relating to national credit and national currency is safe without being inspiring; cautious in its statement of a general principle for future action without pointing a clear course. However, it is better so, for the currency question is a delicate one, the details of which must be worked out gradually. As a whole the work of the convention is satisfying.

A Cheerful Condition.

The fact that this year all the scales of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers have been signed a month in advance of the usual time is another straw (or several of them) in the industrial breeze, indicating that prosperity is on a safe basis. The accompanying report of the bookings of business by the United States Steel Corporation is another. It is a favorable symptom that the proper officers of the steel corporation and the managers of important railroads are thus early in 1903 conferring concerning the prices for steel rails during 1904, and that a tentative agreement has been reached that the rate per ton shall be the present rate. The prosperity of the iron and steel industry, it has been often said, measures the prosperity of the nation. The condition is somewhat changed, owing to the commanding position of the United States Steel Corporation, so that it may be now truthfully said that the business of the United States Steel Corporation is the measure of national prosperity. The circumstance that the corporation has business booked for the remainder of the present year and into 1904, and that it continues to rapidly book business for 1904, while its agreements with its employes insure uninterrupted production and the continuous operation of its mines, furnaces and mills proves that its prosperity extends far into the future. With this true it follows that the prosperity of all lines of business is assured. There has been no material change in the wages of the iron and steel workers, it is said, in the framing of the scales, but wages are high and such changes as have been made are in favor of the workers. If wages not only remain high, but slightly improve, it argues that there is little room for pessimism in the calculations of the business world for this year and next. All the indications are that demand will be in advance of supply, and this is a cheerful condition.

A Demand for Reform.

It is alleged in circles where the facts ought to be known that the director of public safety of the city of Pittsburgh is not measuring up to the duties of his office. This, it goes without saying, is deplorable. Mr. Moore, if advance information concerning the plans and specifications of his delinquency is to be credited, must be nursing some absurd notion that he was appointed to office to attend to certain matters of administrative detail as the agent of the taxpayers. It doesn't appear how he got the notion, or where he got it, or whether it just grew, but unless he gets rid of it in a hurry he is likely to be given an opportunity to reflect outside the breastworks that things of that sort are incompatible with a high position of influence and responsibility in this reform administration. What is Mr. Moore in office for? He can find the answer in the other departments of city government, he is assured. Other directors are meeting the expectations of the power that appointed them, and of the reform sentiment behind it, and if he doesn't do likewise something, it is declared, is going to drop. Everybody was told that when he took office he did so as a component part of a reform administration, but it is now alleged that while other heads of departments have come up to reform expectations in all particulars, Director Moore continues to permit men to hold office under him simply because they understand their duties and know the public business and serve the public well and faithfully, while men who have been loud-mouthed and leather-lunged for reform can't get reform, nor the salary that pertains thereto. They are vociferously for reform and their reform appetite grows with enforced abstinence. They insist on getting in on reform even over the prostrate shape of the director, and they expect a greater than Director Moore to hear and to heed them. They are said to be appealing to the mayor, who ran on a reform ticket, and they want him to prove to them that he is the reformer they esteem him to be. They have lost confidence in the director of public safety as a reformer, and it is hinted that the other heads of departments and the mayor are also convinced that as a reformer he doesn't come up to the mark, or even attempt to. If things have come to this pass Director Moore can do but one of two things—turn reformer or get out. Running a department of city government on business principles in a reform administration while reformers go hungry is really absurd. Director Moore possibly doesn't comprehend the great truth that pre-election pledges were made to the people to the end that the reformers should inherit things. But patience has ceased to be a virtue and the demand is made that he get busy along reform lines and at once. Of what avail were all the pledges and protestations if reformers are to be kept off the payroll? What profits it the reformers that the business of the office of the director of public safety is conducted in an orderly manner when the true object of reform is defeated? Plainly Director Moore must reform or be reformed out. Reform sentiment is aroused as it hasn't been for some weeks, and there is but one way to satisfy it. Is the ear of the director of public safety to the key hole taking note of the clamor on the outside?

Incidentally, it may be remarked (of course with no reference to the foregoing), that a news report in this morning's paper furnishes evidence that the life of a reformer in the Fourth ward is somewhat strenuous and thorny. What it may be in other wards is another story. But that is neither here nor there. What is demanded by reform sentiment is not light on dark places, but a liberal dose of the sunshine of prosperity that is in the keeping of the director of public safety.

Anarchy Warned.

The new naturalization certificates issued under a recent act of congress have been given out by the treasury department at Washington and contain the specific provisions against the admission of foreigners as citizens of the United States who are not willing to forego all anarchistic beliefs. The terms of the new law are plain enough and the intent of congress in passing the measure is clear, but it may be doubted whether this particular provision of the law will be found of especial use in debarring the anarchist from the rights of citizenship. To those aliens who teach and practice anarchistic doctrines there is great advantage to be gained by acquiring citizenship, and for this reason they will not hesitate to evade the law by perjuring themselves. To a large majority of the anarchists an oath presents very little difficulty, and not believing in the sanctity or force of the government they nevertheless desire to hide behind, it will be no hardship for them to forswear their faith for the time being and reassume it again when once in the possession of the coveted boon of citizenship.

The entire question of restraining anarchy in this country is hedged about with difficulties because of the almost impossible task of securing evidence against the people who practice it until some overt act serves to draw attention to them. If the new law could have made proof of the non-anarchistic character of applicants for citizenship rest upon some antecedent evidence to be produced by the applicant himself, the object sought in its enactment might have been more nearly accomplished. As it is, the applicant has only to perjure himself in order to pass muster. Congress, however, has shown a commendable determination to grapple with the difficulties of the proposition, and while the new law is defective in the direction indicated, it will serve the good purpose of warning the foreigner who seeks these shores that our citizenship is not intended for men who cannot cordially indorse our system of government.

Another Grand Old Man.

Associate Justice Harlan of the supreme court recently passed his seventieth milestone on the journey of life and received the hearty congratulations of his friends and associates, the majority of whom would refuse to accept the figures designating the jurist's age were it not for official records. Though entitled under the law to retire from active service, Judge Harlan has signified, in a recent decision, with the full consent of his associates, his purpose not to do so. And why should he? At 70 the distinguished jurist is mentally as alert and vigorous as any of his associates, though they may be several years his junior. Physically the brainy Kentuckian shows no sign of weakening faculties, and his friends in Washington boast that he is as active and energetic in his habits as a college boy, while the whole country can testify to the continued clearness of his mental vision and soundness of his legal judgment.

Judge Harlan thinks nothing of walking seven miles and playing golf for two hours thereafter. He rarely rides from his residence to the court room, and in all his activities shows a strength and vigor unusual for a man of his years.

These are facts of common knowledge and have been reiterated recently in most of the newspapers. The real point is that properly directed and under right conditions a man may preserve his mental and physical vigor far beyond the period when popular opinion declares him an old man and out of the race. Justice Harlan is an illustration of the kind of living that makes "grand old men" and preserves far into old age the usefulness and efficiency of intellectual gifts of a high order. It is not a question in a majority of cases as to whether a man may project his usefulness over the dead line of age limit. The real difficulty is in whether he is willing to live the kind of life that makes such prolonged usefulness in and enjoyment of life possible. Judge Harlan is an example of the class, and their number is constantly growing, who so live their lives that their latter years are full of satisfaction and continued service. This wisdom is giving the world more vigorous patriarchs and enriching life with the fullness and soundness of mature judgment that their active participation in public affairs makes possible.

Hanna's Self-Denial.

It would be manifestly unfair to Senator Hanna to ascribe to him any motive for his sudden change of mind which was not honorable to him in all ways, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. In accordance with what he understood to be the wish of the president, he was broad-minded enough and generous enough to forego his own desire and accede to that of Mr. Roosevelt. His act of self-denial becomes the more creditable when it is considered that the Ohio senator does not approve of some of the president's policies.

ERASMUS WILSON.

That the square formed on the hypotenuse
Of a right-angled triangle is, under ordinary circumstances,
Equal to the sum of the squares formed on
The other two sides, is not difficult to teach a woman:
But when you try to convince her that
She should not sit in the seats
Reserved for smokers in an open car, you get left.
—New York World.

Poking fun at the women again.

Well, somebody has to take the jibes and swallow the jests of the smart set, or rather of the set of smarties.

But the women don't mind, since they are naturally forbearing, and used to long suffering, besides being amiable to a degree, or more.

And, then, being able to see their own faults as well as the faults of others, they are fully aware that they are entitled to at least some of the jibes and jolts they get from time to time. No doubt they think they get more than is coming to them, but it will be no use to argue this point, for they are constitutionally opposed to being argued off of any perch upon which they may have chosen to sit.

* * * * *

You must admit that girls can learn mathematics, and grammar, and geography, and all such things, even if they don't show it after they are married.

But why should a woman go around talking angles and squares, or criticising every newspaper writer who hasn't time to consult Murray when in doubt or ignoring literature, and comparing modern poets with the old-timers? Maybe she can tell you why she spent years studying these, and other years practicing music that is now silent and lost.

However, that is the way of it, and she is here, and to stay, and we are all glad of it, even if she doesn't know a hypothenuse from a pot-hook, for she knows lots of other things that are all right.

We are becoming wiser and wiser as the years go by, and some day we will begin to realize the fact that there are great women in the land as well as great men. They are here now, but we hardly know them when we see them.

* * * * *

The critics, or those who passed as musical critics, used to say that Emma Abbott wasn't an artist, and some went so far as to say she couldn't sing.

Maybe she couldn't, but she could do something—something that brought the people to her in great crowds, and sent them away feeling good. And they were good—better at least than when they came. She was good herself, and she sang to their hearts from her heart, so that her goodness was catching.

Emma was a wee bit of a poor girl when she first started out singing ballads in churches and schools, or wherever she could get up an entertainment. She wasn't particularly pretty, nor strikingly bright, nor exactly handsome in figure and form, but she would sing her way right into the heart of as cold an audience as ever met.

For a year or two she and her guitar toured the northwest, but in time—God's own good time, perhaps—she sang herself into a big New York choir, and into the hearts of some good people who gave her money to go abroad to study, and she paid it back, dollar for dollar, with interest added.

"Sweet little Emma," as she was familliarly known all over this country, may not have been a great singer, but her name will be bright and fresh in the minds and hearts of the people when the names of those whom the critics accounted great, have faded into mere memories.

What greater singer can you recall than just this same little singing bird? You may have heard the great Patti, but everything about her show went to impress you that it was your money she was after. And when all was said and done you couldn't recall a note, nor feel a thrill, nor sigh for her soon return. Even as you thought of her performance, over which the critics raved, and over which you tried to rave, sweet little Emma would bob up and shut out the famous artist, and you would sigh for her soon return.

Some day we will recognize those as great who sing, or write, or preach their way into our hearts, and impress our lives with sweetness and goodness, and love for that which is pure and pleasing and elevating.

Some day we will learn to recognize as great the mother who gives to the world good men and women.

"Married women sigh and moan, dear,
You just let the men alone, dear."

Pretty May stood and wondered
How these matrons nice,
Thinking they should all have blundered
Into marrying twice.
Then said she, "They've griefs and bear 'em,
I'll take one and share 'em."
—What To Eat.

The woman who knows enough to choose the right man for a husband should be accounted wise, while she who has the heart and skill to make a home pleasant and attractive should be accounted good, but the title to greatness must be reserved for the woman who gives to society, and to the world, wholesome, heartsome, worthy men and women, or does that for others which helps materially to make them stronger, purer, and nobler men and women.

Sometime our women will cease to talk nonsense about men and to treat marriage as a mere society event. Sometime they will look into men's faces and hearts instead of their pocketbooks when seeking their mates. Sometime they will covet that best and holiest of names—mother.

* * * * *

The sweet girl graduate who is about to make her debut on the world's great stage, and to take a part in the grand continuous play of life, should be taught that women may become great; also made to understand what constitutes womanly greatness.

Have you taught your daughter that clothes do not make the woman any more than they make the man? Does she understand that the woman who doesn't know how to do something useful, something helpful to her fellows, something that will tend to make the world brighter, is no better than the man without a trade or profession?

What think you of the prospects of the girl who leaves school with nothing to do but to take a seat on the waiting bench and wait for some man to come along and take her, as he would take a pet of any kind, just because he fancied it?

For ages past the cry has been: "Give us men."

Is it not about time to change that cry to another no less worthy: "Give us women."

Sometime this cry will go ringing through the land, and as it is being answered the world will begin growing brighter and better, and heaven itself will draw nearer.

Let no man say he at his lady's feet
Lays worship that to heaven alone belongs:
Yea, swings the incense that for God is meet
In flippant censers of light lover's songs.
Who says it, knows not God, nor love, nor thee;
For love is large as is yon heavenly dome;
In love's great blue, each passion is full free
To fly his favorite flight and build his home.
Did e'er a lark, with skyward pointing beak,
Stab by mischance a level-flying dove?
Wife-love flies level, his dear mate to seek:
God-love darts straight into the skies above.
Crossing the windage of each other's wings
But speeds them both upon their journeyings.

Every man must "chin" his brother,
Or with keen dissatisfaction
Get the worst of the transaction.
Early morn until the chickens
Go to roost and raise the dickens,
Wear their systems to a frazzle,
Get the mental razzle-dazzle
In their efforts to get money.
As the wild bees gather honey.
After profits, so insistent,
Erstwhile friends grow cold and distant;
At the noisy railway station,
Greet with formal salutation.
All the old-time love forgotten
In the price of corn and cotton—
Things, when cornered, there are steals in—
Which the board of trade now deals in.
So in order to be wealthy,
Men wear out who might be healthy,
Soul and body wrecked and broken,
All their kindly words unspoken—
Body underneath the daisies,
Soul snuffed out and gone to blazes.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—New York today has had the most peculiar fog it ever saw. It resembles a "London particular" more than any other kind, and to many Americans it has the interest of being something that they never before had an opportunity of enjoying. It is not like a Pittsburgh fog. It lacks the gray hue and flakes of soot which are so familiar to the denizens of Smithfield and Liberty street and the South Side. But it has elements of its own which are quite as striking and much more unpleasant to New Yorkers—principally, no doubt, because people here are unused to them. There is an irritating quality in the fog today which causes a tickling in the throat and makes one inclined to wheeze. Some imaginative persons declare there are atoms of wood-ashes flying in the air. Perhaps there are, for it is an established fact that the dull tan color of everything seen through the fog can be traced to the forest fires which are raging over many miles up the state, and have frightened people in the Adirondacks. Unless rain comes soon, it is likely that the fog will become worse in this city, just as reports say it has in many others between New York and Pittsburgh.

The Firemen on Parade.

Saturday will see a parade which will equal in interest that of the police a few weeks ago, even if the men do not march with quite the military precision of the "finest." It will be the annual turnout of the fire department. If there is any class of men who are heroes to the people, especially the small boy element, it is firemen.

An American Girl in Chinese Theater.

Word has reached this city from San Francisco that an American girl is playing as a soubrette in a Chinese theater and in the Chinese tongue. She will play in New York before very long, it is reported. All of which indicates that the young woman has a far-reaching press agent.

Plenty of Losers—No Winners.

While it may be true that the "western crowd," as it is called, have lost fortunes in Wall street in the last year or so, it is impossible to find who has won them. It is an incontrovertible proposition that if a certain amount of money has been lost at a gambling game, whether it be a stock market speculation in Wall street or faro in the Tenderloin, somebody must have won it. Millions are said to have been lost in stocks. The interesting question which no one has come forward to answer is, who has the swag?

The Deadly Hiccough.

A shoe dealer in the Bronx has had the hiccoughs for a week. Doctors have been unable to stop them. Hiccoughs are funny for the first few minutes. In a day they become an annoyance; in a week they are deadly. It is feared the victim in the Bronx will die unless he can be soon relieved.

Horses Beat the Trolley.

People who happened to be near Coney Island today saw a rattling chase, with three mounted policeman as the hunters, and three stablehoys from Sheepshead the quarry. The boys were charged with "holding up" a man with a jag. They had got on a car and had been pursued by policemen on another car without result until three officers on horseback came along. Then it was demonstrated that horses in the police department can beat a Brooklyn trolley car in speed and the three young men are in a cell tonight.

An Interpreter Wanted.

A well-dressed boy about 9 years of age was found wandering about Brooklyn today, lost and unable to speak any tongue the police could understand. In this polyglot city someone will be found who can interpret the youngster's language. One of the papers here argues that he is the child of wealthy parents because he has "rich brown curls."

All Had Speaking Parts.

There was an assemblage in front of the Manhattan theater this afternoon which comprised more well-known actors than had been seen so close together since the end of the theatrical season began to bring the Thespian birds of passage back to New York. The annual meeting of the Actors' Society of America has just been held in the theater, and the gentlemen outside were talking it over, according to their wont. Officers had been elected, and many interesting matters had been discussed, with nearly every one of the 300 actors and actresses present asking for the privilege of the floor in the course of the session. It was one of those occasions when no individual had the exclusive right to the center of the stage and no one felt that he was cast for a "thinking part."

Good Weather for Golfers.

This is splendid weather for golf—dry, free of sunshine, and cool. The players in the championship tournament of the Woman's Metropolitan Golf association in Staten Island did good work and as several of the contestants were ex-champions or coming champions, including Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Ruth Underhill, Mrs. Manice and other well-known players, the struggle was worth going to see. The Staten Island ferryboats did a heavy business today.

Draws the Line at Beer Mugs.

Clyde Dance is said to belong to a wealthy Baltimore family. He was a defendant today in Jefferson Market police court, where Tenderloin prisoners usually find themselves in "the cold gray dawn of the morning after." Mr. Dance playfully threw a small beer stein—a souvenir of a dinner he had attended—at the feet of Maude Lillian Berri, prima donna of the "Sultan of Sulu" at Wallack's last night. The stein smashed, Miss Berri squeaked, and Frank Moulan, who happens to be Miss Berri's husband, had the young man arrested. Moulan is too experienced a theatrical man to disturb an entertainment by an arrest that will do just as well after the fall of the curtain. Moulin did not press the complaint of disorderly conduct, which had been entered, and Mr. Dance went home. A prima donna will accept flowers over the footlights sometimes. But she is sure to draw the line at beer mugs.

Plucky Woman Wins Out.

Woman held her own in business today, when Mrs. Sheridan, a widow, got the dock privileges at West Ninety-seventh street from the city by outbidding several competitors. She will pay $1,875 a year for the use of the pier. Her husband used to have a lighterage business. When he died of yellow fever at Key West 13 years ago, Mrs. Sheridan took hold and has managed things so successfully that she was able to bid to the amount that got her the pier and would have gone much higher had it been necessary. Pluck will tell, especially when it wears a frock and spring bonnet.

An Automobile Suggestion.

They might arrange an automobile race course in the Desert of Sahara. The ground there is flat, and the place not much frequented by pedestrians.—Baltimore American.

Political Drift.

After quoting the tariff plank adopted by the Pennsylvania Republican convention, the Sioux City Journal (Rep.) says: "It will be observed that what Pennsylvania Republicans deprecate is any suggestion of 'a general revision of the tariff at the present time,' and what they advise against is 'suggestions of present interference with revenue legislation.' If Pennsylvania has made a bold declaration against any changes in the present tariff schedules she would have advanced a 'stand pat' idea entirely at variance with the last national platform and in direct opposition to the policy of the present administration as it has come to be pretty definitely understood. The declarations actually made are of no special significance of themselves, for nobody within the Republican party is advocating 'general revision at the present time,' nor is anybody suggesting 'present interference with revenue legislation.' Arguments were made in favor of limited tariff revision at the hands of the late congress, but nothing came of them, and there has been general acquiescence in the wisdom of letting the matter go over until after the national election. That is the Iowa idea just now, and that is the Roosevelt idea, as it is understood out this way."

+ + + +

Discussing the Cleveland boom, the Washington Star (Ind. Rep.) declares that it was started in New York, in capitalistic circles and for capitalistic purposes, and adds: "This is not to say that it has no other support. But its leading support is in and near Wall street, and it is distinctly the product of influences leading up to the trusts. The people were not thinking of Mr. Cleveland as likely to be an active force again in political life. Nor can it be said that now that his name has been suggested to them they are showing any particular interest in him. The noisy acclaim at St. Louis was an ebullition of the feeling attaching to the big show. Every visiting notable got a loud cheer and the glad hand. But the Cleveland boomers are industriously at work, and if money and energy can make the boom go, go it will.

"The remark is often made that Mr. Cleveland has achieved his unusual success in spite of the politicians. It is wholly misleading. As much as any man ever was, he is the product of the politicians. Mr. Manning introduced him to national life, and Mr. Gorman pulled him through his first campaign with difficulty. His second nomination came to him as a matter of course. He owed his third to Mr. Whitney, and if he secures, as he very much desires, a fourth, he will owe that to well-known political agencies set in motion by the trusts."

+ + + +

"Entirely the worst thing that has been said of Gen. Miles in recent days is the suggestion of the possibility that he would take the Democratic presidential candidacy if it should be offered to him," says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.). "Of course, there is not the slightest chance that it will be offered. Miles would be weaker in a Democratic national convention than Gorman. While Gorman is undoubtedly a Democrat, nobody knows where Miles stands on the issues of the day. In the general scrub race for the Republican candidacy in 1888, after Blaine made it known that he would not accept the nomination under any conditions, Miles was one of the persons mentioned in connection with it. There was no chance for the general to get the nomination from the Republicans then or ever, and there is not the faintest possibility that he will get it from the Democrats either in 1904 or at any other time."

+ + + +

"Keep a close eye on Wolfert's Roost during the next few weeks," says the New York Commercial Advertiser (Rep.). "The stillness in that retreat is the most impressive thing in the land today. Bryan has simply tailed his head off. His tongue is still wagging, but only from force of habit or muscular contraction. He is dead and he shows plainly that he knows it. Mr. Hill, on the contrary, is not only alive but very much rested. Seldom in his career has he passed so long a period of complete inactivity. He will emerge presently and remind his party that with Roosevelt as the Republican nominee, New York is more than ever a pivotal state, and nobody can carry it for the Democrats save a New Yorker. Speaking of New Yorkers, the only Democrat from the state who will have a solid delegation behind him in the next national convention will be David B. Hill."

+ + + +

Representative Richardson of Alabama does not believe in the Cleveland boom. He says: "In my judgment the people of Alabama, and probably of the south generally, have not made up their minds to any one man for the Democratic nomination. This idea, however, is dominant. The candidate must be a man who can carry New York state. Otherwise we have no hope in the world of beating Mr. Roosevelt. New York is absolutely essential to us.

"Judge Parker's boom is predicated on that idea, for an opinion prevails that he would be the most likely of any candidate yet discussed to carry the Empire state. But I am by no means devoted to the Parker boom. He has had no extensive public career, but has had a creditable record as a judge of New York state. If it can be shown to me that Gorman or any other Democrat is better able to carry New York state, then, by the eternal, I am for him."

+ + + +

Representative John F. Lacey of Iowa does not believe in experimenting with tariff revision. He thus states his attitude toward the "Iowa idea": "Let us take counsel together and in good nature and fraternal spirit unite upon the policies and principles which have in the past brought success to our party and prosperity to the country, and I believe that no better declaration of our party principles can be drawn than that so clearly stated by President Theodore Roosevelt. What is best for the United States is best for the Republican party."

Judges in Politics.

The ermine should be kept out of the mire and filth of political capaigns. It can never go through such an ordeal without more or less smirch, no matter how upright the candidate may be. The wonder is that under such conditions the judiciary of those states that employ the elective system is as good as it is. It cannot help losing dignity; it cannot keep public confidence unimpaired; it cannot avoid suspicion; or, at least, it cannot stand as high or be as independent in all these respects as the judge who is under no obligation to political managers or machines.—Boston Transcript.

A Democratic Joke.

Chairman Hall of the Democratic state committee is quoted as favoring Senator Dewalt of Lehigh for auditor general "because he not only voted against the press muzzler, but made a strong speech in opposition to it." And while Senator Dewalt was doing this Senator Hall, the Democratic chairman, was sitting in his seat doing nothing—not even recording his vote against the muzzler. To continue Senator Hall at the head of the Democratic organization and make a campaign against the muzzler would be a boisterous joke.—Philadelphia Press.

LIVELY TILT AT FINAL SESSION

Pittsburghers and Philadelphians Clash on Licensing Rural Undertakers.

OFFICERS FOR YEAR ELECTED

Visitors Witnessed Embalming Demonstration at Morgue and Passed a Resolution Congratulating County on Having Finest Building in America.

The twenty-second annual convention of the Funeral Directors' association of Pennsylvania came to a close last night with a dance and banquet at the Monongahela house. The feature of yesterday's meetings was a practical demonstration of embalming by Prof. H. S. Eckels of Philadelphia, at the morgue. Officers for the ensuing year were elected.

The morning session was characterized by a lively tilt over the adoption of a resolution to amend the act of 1895, which licenses the funeral directors in the first, second and third class cities and which was aimed to include all the undertakers of the state. The committee on legislation during the past year decided that it would be better for the public at large if the scope of the law was made broader and include undertakers in boroughs and rural districts.

The Philadelphia delegation opposed the resolution and made severe charges against the Pittsburgh people who favored the resolution. T. C. Bienhauer, a member of the committee, replied to the charges and said the Pittsburgh members when they visited Philadelphia were given a "chilly reception." A motion to adopt the resolution was defeated, and when the election of officers was made the same spirit developed, the two delegations closely watching the other that neither secured a better representation in office.

LOCAL MAN ELECTED PRESIDENT.

James M. Fullerton of Pittsburgh was elected president. Several candidates were named, but all withdrew and the local man had no opposition. Other officers elected, including delegates to the national convention which meets in Minneapolis August 19-25, are as follows: Vice president, A. C. Hookey, Philadelphia; P. C. Bienhauer, Pittsburgh; C. M. Bennett, New Florence; secretary, George Chandler Paul, Philadelphia; treasurer, Jacob H. Fisher, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia; executive committee, John Berkenkamp, Erie; Joseph Stevens, Altoona; A. P. Burton, Erie; delegates to the national convention, J. A. Kress, Allegheny; A. L. Marthume, Jeannette; A. C. Hookey, Philadelphia; F. C. Bienhauer, Pittsburgh; Charles Wagner, Philadelphia, Mrs. M. Staggers, Pittsburgh; James G. Weldon, Philadelphia.

At the opening of the afternoon session Erie was chosen as the next meeting place of the association. The delegates then journeyed to the morgue, under the guidance of Coroner Jesse M. McGeary, where Prof. Eckels gave his demonstration of embalming. Those present were all interested in the demonstration, which was a marked success. Besides the delegates, a score or more ladies were present.

SPEECHES AT THE BANQUET.

The banquet in the evening began at 8 o'clock, with Mr. Fullerton, the new president, in the chair. Informal speeches were made by F. C. Bienhauer, George P. Roberts, District Attorney John C. Haymaker, G. I. Gosser, Coroner Jesse M. McGeary, Wesley Kelly, the Rev. S. Edward Young and M. E. Leslie of Pittsburgh, and Robert Bringhurst and A. C. Hookey, Philadelphia.

A resolution was presented by Mr. Bringhurst, congratulating Allegheny county on its excellent morgue building. The delegates, after witnessing the embalming demonstration in the afternoon, made a tour of the marble palace and were greatly delighted with its many conveniences and handsome interior. Many asserted that it is the finest morgue building in America. The resolution was unanimously passed.

After the banquet a dance took place which lasted well into the morning. But few of the out-of-town delegates left here last night. Most of them will leave some time today with their families.

NEW BANK HAS BRIGHT FUTURE

Guardian Trust Company Will Shortly Be Open for Business.

Stock Is Being Widely Distributed and Will Be Largely in the Hands of Small Investors—An Unusual Opportunity for Persons With Only a Few Hundred Dollars to Invest.

The Guardian Trust Company of Pittsburgh, which was organized recently with a capital and surplus of $1,000,000, will shortly be open for business. The new trust company will occupy the handsome building at No. 411 Wood street, which is situated in the heart of Pittsburgh's financial district.

The directors of the new institution are: Milton I. Baird of Black & Baird, the well-known real estate and insurance brokers; J. C. Martin, counsellor at law and director of the First National bank of Beaver, Pa.; C. R. Williams of C. R. Williams & Co., bankers and brokers; Charles H. Craig, contractor; Charles H. Jacobs, clothier and men's furnisher; W. McKee Kelley, with A. B. Hay, Allegheny; A. G. Tim of John W. Tim & Sons, and W. E. Hildebrand.

The officers of the company are: Milton I. Baird, president; J. C. Martin, vice president; W. E. Hildebrand, second vice president; George L. Stephenson, secretary and treasurer.

The Guardian Trust Company is authorized under its charter to act in any fiduciary capacity and to do a general banking business. Mr. Stephenson, the secretary and treasurer of the company, had been connected for 15 years with the Safe Deposit and Trust Company of this city, and resigned to take active charge of the new institution. His long experience and thorough qualifications for the work in hand give very assurance of success.

The Guardian Trust Company starts out under an able and aggressive management, supported by a strong and conservative directorate. In entering the Pittsburgh financial field the new institution has adopted a policy which gives this company a marked advantage over all others and should be instrumental in making the growth of the Guardian Trust Company among the most rapid ever known in Pittsburgh.

Instead of disposing of the bulk of the stock of the company in large blocks to a few capitalists, as has been largely the practice in launching such enterprises, the directors of the Guardian Trust Company have adopted a policy quite the reverse. The greater part of the stock is now being disposed of in small lots of from two shares upward to small investors and chiefly to persons who have no affiliations with other banks. The object is to place the stock in the hands of persons who will be the means of bringing business to the bank and to interest as many such persons as possible.

It is a well-known fact that Pittsburgh trust company stocks have proved the most profitable investments on the market—some of them enormously so. But, in order to make much money on such an investment, it is necessary to get in at the start. The opportunity to do this has been denied to the small investors heretofore, and they will be glad of the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of so promising an enterprise as the Guardian Trust Company.

The par value of Guardian Trust stock is $25 and the selling price is $30, of which $25 goes into the surplus fund.

Although the last names of each of the principals is the same, none of them was related until Mr. Schmidt tied the nuptial knot.

POPE FEELS EFFECT OF DECLINING YEARS

His Holiness Beginning to Lose Interest in His Study and Garden.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, June 4.—A pathetic picture of Pope Leo XIII. in his declining days is painted by the Rome correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, who writes:

"Those who have seen the pope lately say the difference is not so much in his capacity to accomplish as in his desire. He is not as wakeful at night, but very seldom arises from his bed to compose Latin poems or to write and study, and those who watch over him have been surprised that this spring he never once said he would like to go into the garden.

"The first trip into the open has always been one of inevitable struggles between the pontiff and Dr. Lapponi. Pope Leo comes of a race of mountaineers and consequently loves fresh air, and has a theory that one cannot have too much of it. 'The older I am the more I need air,' he has maintained, with a twinkle in his eye, which betokened that he was bound to have his own way at all costs.

"But this year, to the terror of his familiars, his mood has changed. When it was timidly hinted the other day that his grapevines needed his attention, he replied: 'I can trust Giovanni. He knows more about them than I do,' which brought tears to the eyes of the faithful old attendant, who knows that only two months ago his holiness contended that Giovanni did not know anything and that he himself was the only authority.

"The real truth is that Pope Leo, when not giving private audiences, and they are now made as short as possible, is usually resting, which means half sleeping sometimes almost degenerating into coma."

ROME, June 4.—With regard to the reports that the pope is ill it is learned that the only trouble from which he is suffering is exhaustion, due to fatigue as a result of the receptions his holiness had held since Easter, to the number of over 20,000. The pope continues to see high officials and today had a long conference with Cardinal Rampolla about the appointment of an archbishop of Manila, for which post there are three candidates. The pope will resume his ordinary audiences tomorrow.

AMMON ON TRIAL FOR RECEIVING STOLEN MONEY

Difficulty Experienced in Securing Jury to Try a Former Pittsburgher.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—Col. Robert A. Ammon appeared this morning in court to answer the charge of receiving $80,000 of the stolen wealth of the defunct Franklin syndicate. Late in the afternoon adjournment was reached until tomorrow, the greater part of the two sessions having been devoted to the selection of eight talesmen.

District Attorney Jerome is confident of conviction. So is William F. Miller, the youth who was president of the syndicate. Col. Ammon is just as confident of acquittal. He appeared in court accompanied by numerous clerks, messengers and attorneys. Five lawyers volunteered their services. They are Arthur C. Palmer, Frederick C. House, Louis J. Morrison, Frollin C. Wooster and William M. Mullen. Both Jerome and Ammon seem eager for the fray, while Miller is regarded as perhaps the tamest part of the performance. It is certain that he has valuable information, but his evidence may not count for much.

Mr. Jerome made it plain that Miller would be a witness against his former lawyer, and that in return for his evidence the district attorney would intercede with Gov. Odell for a pardon. Miller lived and transacted business in Brooklyn, where he was tried and convicted, and he was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment. He has been transferred from the Singsing prison to the Tombs, and the prosecution relies largely upon his testimony to obtain Col Ammon's conviction.

Col. Ammon's defense is that he acted solely as Miller's attorney and that the money alleged to have been stolen was placed in his hands long before any criminal charge was made against Miller.

LOREE DECLINES TO TAKE ORDERS

Rumor That He Will Be Displaced as President of the Baltimore & Ohio.

HE DIFFERS WITH CASSATT

Two Railroad Presidents Differ on Appointments at Baltimore and Widening Breach Promises to Bring About Many Changes in Management.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, June 4.—A rumor has been afloat in local railroad and financial circles today to the effect that President Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio and President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania are at odds and as a result Mr. Loree may not be re-elected president at the next meeting of the board of directors. Mr. Loree is not in the city. But the story has been given such credence by officials in a position to know that it is a generally accepted fact that a rupture has occurred between the two railroad presidents. The primary cause of this is due to promotions recently made in this city. Mr. Cassatt, according to the story, demanded that certain men be promoted. Mr. Loree filled the positions to suit himself and at a subsequent meeting with President Cassatt in Philadelphia told the latter that as long as he was president of the Baltimore & Ohio he intended to run the road to suit himself. This, together with the fact that Mr. Loree interested himself in the candidacy of Frank Wachter for the mayoralty of Baltimore, prompted Mr. Cassatt to set aside his friendship for Mr. Loree, and the failure of the latter to be elected a director of the Reading road a few days ago is attributed to Mr. Cassatt's action.

Rumor goes so far as to assert that if Mr. Loree is not re-elected Oscar G. Murray, the first vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio, will be made the chief executive of the road.

ORDER GRANTED ON THE B. & O.

In circuit court No. 2 late this afternoon in a suit filed by the Western Maryland railroad, Judge Dobler granted an order nisi requiring the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to show cause within 10 days why it should not be permanently enjoined from diverting freight from the plaintiff. An accounting is also asked for by the Western Maryland.

This case promises to be a celebrated one, as it involves the alleged breakage of traffic agreements between railroads. It is one more legal battle between the Gould interests and the Pennsylvania railroad to be fought out.

The case relates to the old arrangement between the Western Maryland and the Baltimore & Ohio for the handling by the former of traffic interchanged by the latter with the Reading. This had developed to be a profitable feature of the business of the Western Maryland railroad, but when that property passed into the hands of the Goulds it soon developed that the traffic was to be taken away and it has since been transferred to the Cumberland Valley railroad at a considerable loss to the Western Marylands.

Specific diversions of traffic by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in violation of this agreement are mentioned. It is alleged that a very large amount of freight between August 1, 1902 and May 1, 1903, was thus diverted, amounting to 45,000 carloads, or about 1,000,000 tons of freight. The loss to the Western Maryland by these specific diversions, it is claimed, was at least $275,000. Other violations of the contract of which there are no data are referred to.

PENNSY IS BLAMED.

The Western Maryland Railroad Company states that all this has been done since the change of ownership of the Pennsylvania railroad which it is pointed out, owns over 40 per cent of the stock of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company.

F. S. Landstreet, vice president and general manager of the Western Maryland Railroad Company, came to Baltimore today and will spend a few days here for the first time since his return from Europe. Mr. Landstreet's attention was called to the report that the Goulds had bought the Erie railroad and would reach New York by this route. He said:

"Reports first had it that the Baltimore & Ohio had been bought and these were denied. Then they came forward with a new story. This was that it was not the Baltimore & Ohio, but the Lehigh Valley was the one secured. This was denied and yesterday it was followed by the report that the Erie had been purchased. All three reports were absurd and impossible. Mr. Gould denied them including the Erie story. The plans of the Goulds are just what has been understood all along by the people of Baltimore. Their intentions are to get to a seaboard outlet in Baltimore and they have not been altered."

PITTSBURGHERS IN THE HANNA WEDDING PARTY

Miss Virginia Johnston and Miss Laura Ginley Are Bridesmaids for Senator's Daughter.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, June 4.—There will be 20 in the Hanna-McCormick bridal party, including Miss Ruth Hanna and her fiance, Joseph M. McCormick, and each represents a prominent American family.

Miss Lucia McCurdy, Miss Hanna's first cousin, will be maid of honor. Five of the eight bridesmaids were schoolmates of Miss Hanna at Farmington. They are Miss Frances Lewis, Portland, Ore.; Miss Virginia Johnston and Miss Laura Ginley, Pittsburgh; Miss Eleanor Patterson, daughter of Robert Patterson of the Chicago Tribune, and Miss Adelaide Hamilton, daughter of D. Z. Hamilton, Chicago. Miss Patterson arrived in New York from Russia on Tuesday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. McCormick. Two of the three bridemaids who were not schoolmates of Miss Hanna are Cleveland girls. They are Miss Florence Cobb and Miss Claire Hanna. The eighth bridesmaid is Miss Mary Hopkins, daughter of Archibald Hopkins of Washington. The best man will be the bridegroom's younger brother, Rutherford McCormick, who is president of the Yale University club. The eight ushers will be Joseph M. Patterson, cousin of the bridegroom, Chicago; Robert Allerton, Chicago; J. W. Beck of the Chicago Tribune; Ernest Miner, Cincinnati; James Barney, New York; William Williams, Philadelphia; Malcolm McBride and Howard M. Hanna, cousin of the bride, Cleveland.

REPORT PRESENTED.

General Synod of the Reformed Church Considers New Liturgical Forms.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 4.—(Special.)—The report of the committee appointed by the general synod of 1902 to prepare a revision of the liturgical forms of the Reformed church in America was presented the general synod this afternoon and will be warmly discussed tomorrow morning. The report provides for radical changes and a shortening of all the special services. The promise of the wife "to obey" is omitted from the marriage service and this omission is also expected to arouse opposition. The new form for the administration of the Lord's supper seems to give more satisfaction and the form used by President Wells in the synod celebration of the sacrament in the Reformed church tonight.

The question of union with the Southern Presbyterian church was referred to a committee consisting of the reverend doctors, Brett, Burrell, Vance and Elders Brower and Poole. The committee will prepare a report which will be submitted before the close of the synod.

ARGENTINA BUYS PITTSBURGH NAILS

Nearly 11,000 Tons of Pittsburgh Product Shipped Abroad Last Month.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 4.

The Pittsburgh and other Pennsylvania plants of the American Steel & Wire Company and the National Tube Company, branches of the United States Steel Corporation, shipped last month through New York and other seaboard points, nearly 11,000 tons of wire, wire nails and pipe to various parts of the globe. Almost 7,500 tons of wire and wire nails were exported.

The wire shipments aggregated 4,475 tons. They chiefly went to the Argentine republic and Australia. To the first-named country 1,421 tons were forwarded in 10 shipments, while five lots, representing an aggregate of 1,207 tons, went to the antipodes.

The exports of wire nails represented all but 3,000 tons. China and Japan were the largest buyers, 1,202 tons in three lots having been shipped to the far east. South America was sent 471 tons, 317 tons going to Chili and 134 tons to the Argentine republic. Europe was shipped 892 tons. Six hundred and seventy-four tons went to British ports. Liverpool took 268 tons in seven lots. Manchester handled 147 tons, while exports were also made to London, Bristol, Glasgow and New Castle. On the continent, Constantinople was the largest buyer, 115 tons going in one lot to the Ottoman port. Smaller lots went to Genoa and Copenhagen. One hundred and thirty-seven tons in six shipments went to South Africa. Australia was consigned 206 tons. Manila, Cuba, Colon and Bombay were also made shipments.

More than 3,000 tons of pipe were consigned to different foreign countries in May. Europe, China and Japan were the largest buyers. Europe was sent 893 tons. Six hundred and twelve tons went to British ports. London took 501 tons. Liverpool one lot of 10 tons, and the balance going to Glasgow. Stockholm was shipped 124 tons. Genoa and Copenhagen were also sent small lots. Six hundred tons in two lots went to China and Japan. Five hundred and twenty-three tons, in one shipment, went to Sydney, Cape Breton. Four hundred and ninety-six tons were shipped in five lots to Colon. Mexico took 383 tons in five shipments. Consignments went also to Australia, Argentine republic, Cuba and the Philippines.

The exports of structural steel from Pittsburgh mills last month aggregated some 1,200 tons. This is the largest tonnage for several months past. Five hundred and fifty tons went to China and Japan in two lots. The material will be used for bridge building. Three hundred and fifty-five tons were shipped in one lot to Mexico and 275 tons in two shipments went to South Africa.

MONKS ARRESTED AFTER RESISTANCE

PARIS, June 4.—A number of gendarmes today dispossessed the monks from the monastery of La Biachere. About 6,000 persons engaged in a demonstration for and against the authorities. The monks barricaded the gates and doors of the monastery with pavingstones, but the soldiers scaled the walls, reached the roof and gained access to the building. They then cleared away the barricades and arrested the father superior, the monks and a number of manifestants.

MUNYON TALKS TO WOMEN

Tells How They May Have a Beautiful Complexion and Grow Luxuriant Hair

Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap is really a skin food and vitalizer. The only soap containing witch hazel; its success has caused imitators to brand their soap witch hazel; these words cannot be trademarked. See that the soap is stamped Munyon. It nourishes the skin just as much as food nourishes the body. It puts every pore into a healthy condition; assists Nature in throwing off poisons from the body; allays inflammation, cools, soothes and heels all irritated parts. It cures chapped hands and lips, and all forms of chafing. No soap, no lotion, no wash for hands will so quickly quiet a baby suffering with prickly heat or any form of rash as Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap. Its soothing effect upon the little one is almost instantaneous. I want every person troubled with hives, or who is tormented by any itching, to bathe with Munyon's Witch Hazel Soap, using water as hot as the skin can bear. Relief will be immediate. There is not a case of dandruff, and I know of no scalp disease but this soap will cure. It is ideal for shampooing. It prevents hair from falling out by strengthening and feeding the roots. Ladies will find this soap a great blessing as a wash for certain irritations, weakness and discharges. It is antiseptic, allays all inflammation, and removes all unpleasant odors. Every gentleman who shaves himself should try this soap. It softens the beard and prevents the skin from becoming irritated and sore. No smarting, no burning, no need of bay rum or witch hazel for bathing. For the general toilet it is an exquisite luxury, it improves any complexion and makes the skin soft as velvet. It is as far superior to any other soap ever made as the electric light is to the tallow dip. You cannot afford to be careless about your soap, especially if there are young children in the family. Sold everywhere.

SOUTH AMERICA NEGLECTED BY US

Senor F. E. Pezet Told Chamber of Commerce How Americans Overlook Chances.

OUT ON BALANCE OF TRADE

United States Buys Three Times as Much from Southern Republics as Is Sold to That Country—Peruvian Will Visit Manufacturing Plants.

Senor F. E. Pezet, secretary of the Peruvian legation at Washington, addressed the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon at its last monthly meeting until fall. The senor's topic was "An Unbroken Waterway from Pittsburgh to Peru."

He said he appeared as a Peruvian and as an official representative of Peru to interest the people here in this country. While the United States has built up a great commercial empire, he declared, it has neglected the South American markets and has not adapted itself to the conditions existing in South America as have the nations of Europe. The figures furnished by the department of state at Washington, he said, illustrated this. Continuing Senor Pezet said:

In 1902 the total exports of merchandise from South America to this country were $115,785,319; the exports from here to South America were $38,074,202. This means that the United States bought three times more than it sold and that the money instead of coming back here was taken to Europe and used there to buy European manufactures.

The reason why the whole of the millions that South America takes out of this country are not used here to buy other wares is that the manufacturers in the United States will not conform to the methods of doing business in South America. Consequently the native buyer and the European commission broker and importer prefer to buy in the European market where he can without any difficulty get his terms.

Senora Pezet, a charming young woman from Lima, Peru, sat throughout the meeting and listened to her husband's address. At its conclusion she was introduced to the members by Col. A. J. Logan, president of the chamber. Prior to the Peruvian's address routine business was transacted.

Senor Pezet will visit the works of the Carnegie Steel Company and the Westinghouse plants today. In the evening it is expected he will deliver a lecture in the Pittsburgh Carnegie hall under the auspices of the Academy of Science and Art. If the hall cannot be secured the banquet hall at the Hotel Schenley will be used.

By waiting until tomorrow to look up this matter you will be running too much risk of missing what will be beyond all question the greatest real estate opportunity that will ever occur.

There won't be many Gould Cities. There are not many Altoonas. Colossal railroad enterprises are not established many times even in a century.

Trunk lines like the Wabash are not numerous. Even though they were the Herculean task of fighting for right-of-ways and political favor makes even the railroad giants hesitate before deciding to take up the work.

BELLS WILL RING

No Lots Will Be Put On Sale Before Excursionists Have All Arrived

Choice lots at this great sale will go at $25 up. Beauties will be offered as low as $25, $50, $100, $150, $200, $250 and $300.

Splendid lots on Ramsey, Patterson and Washington avenues and Murray street, the business thoroughfare, will be sold at $200 to $1,000.

Some extra choice sites will go as high as $1,500, but for none is there being asked a higher figure than $1,500. Very few will be offered at over $600. Very many will be offered at less than $600.

Terms are, 5 per cent down; 2½ per cent per month for balance; 15 per cent discount for cash when full amount is paid within sixty days from date of purchase.

The policy is not to see how much the lots can be sold for, but to see how fast they can be built up, so that there will be markets of supply for the incoming workmen and homebuyers.

STORES NEEDED.

The $450,000 which will circulate every month as workmen's wages will create an immediate demand for first-class meat markets, groceries and bakeries, for dry goods houses, notion and shoe stores, for drug stores, for plumbing, painting, carpenter and cabinet-making shops, for upholsters, china stores, hardware stores, and more especially hotels and boarding houses. The man who is far-sighted enough to own the best hotel in the place will make a fortune.

The sensational prices, such as $25, $50, $75, $100, $150 up to $300, have been made solely for advertising purposes, as the ground and improvements alone before the acreage was sub-divided cost the Company more than these figures.

For this reason persons having scarcely any money saved can buy at Gould City and start to build. What they save on the price of their lot they can afford to put into building a home. If they decide not to build a home, they can sell the lot almost immediately for at least double what they paid for it. Any man who buys three lots, saves one and sells the other two, can build and pay for a house out of the profit he will make on the two he sells.

THE GREAT NEW CITY OF GOULD WILL BE THE WEALTH DISTRIBUTING POINT FOR THIS MONSTER RESIDENTIAL AND BUSINESS PROJECT
PRESIDENT RAMSEY'S PLANS WILL ESTABLISH ON THE WABASH A CHAIN OF SUBURBS AS GREAT AND POPULOUS AS THOSE ON THE P.R.R.

THINK OF ALTOONA

The Investors Who Built Up That Remarkable City Did Not Prosper More Than Will Those Who Build Up the City of Gould

There never was a great industrial city started with homes enough to house one-tenth of the men it will be found necessary to employ in the Wabash shops! This is a historical fact. It shows investors the money they will be able to make by getting in at the start and realizing their gains when premiums will be offered by the thousands who come later and must have homes for themselves and families!

LIVED IN OTHER TOWNS.

Think of the scramble for homes at South Sharon and Lorain when the machinery in the great plants at those cities was first put in motion! Think how 2,000 men who started to work in the Altoona shops so many years ago had to live in Tyrone, Johnstown and other places until they could possess their own roof trees in Altoona, the seat of their employment! This will give you an idea of conditions in the City of Gould after the great Wabash industries are planted! But man cannot estimate or realize the mounting value of real estate after this gigantic venture has taken root and spread itself out!

Bridgeville, which adjoins the City of Gould, is today a beautiful little town of 2,000 inhabitants—dotted with fine houses and surrounded by gentlemen's country seats.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS FACE PROPERTY.

Yet the wave of expansion has already rendered it impossible for anyone to get accommodations in Bridgeville. A town with city water, gas and sewerage, advantages soon to be extended to Gould. Churches and public schools are already there, facing the Wabash Improvement Company's property.

You can judge of the future of Gould, of the rare opportunity for investment afforded by present prices, by learning what the farmers all around this section are asking for acreage. Farms away off from the line of expansion are being quoted at higher figures per square foot than The Improvement Company is asking for lots right in Gould City. The whole community for miles in every direction is fired with the enthusiasm of coming wealth! All of which shows what the wide-awake investor, who buys at this first sale, will make in the next nine months when the place begins to seethe and boil over with its industrial activity!

RAILROAD FARES WILL BE REFUNDED TO PURCHASERS LIVING ANYWHERE WITHIN 100 MILES.

WAS GIVEN A MEDAL FOR HEROISM IN CHINA

East Liverpool Visitor Had a Career of Adventure in the Orient.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., June 4.—Capt. George S. Foden of Hongkong, China, is visiting his father in this city, the first time he has seen him in 10 years. Although only 25 years of age, Capt. Foden has a career of hardship and adventure such as seldom falls to the lot of a man of twice his years. When 15 he left his home in England and ran away. After considerable wandering he landed in Hongkong in 1895. Becoming acquainted with the officers in charge of British interests in that locality, he was attached to the civil service and soon became a member of the dock police force. His efficiency was soon proven and he was given command of a squad of men, the duties of whom were to keep the waters in the vicinity of the mouth of the Canton river free from pirates.

Here he had many stirring adventures, and while many of his men were killed, he escaped without a wound. In 1897, with scores of men under his direction, he undertook the task of taking the census of the English district of Kowloon in Hongkong. This task completed, he again returned to the dock service. In 1902, one of the worst typhoons in history visited Chinese waters and thousands of lives were lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed. In the work of life-saving young Foden was among the foremost of those at the head of various crews and for his heroic work he received a medal of honor as well as an advance in rank.

Finally he entered the employ of a dock company, raised numerous sunken boats in Chinese waters, and then went to Manila, where he raised and beached the sunken Spanish boat Isla de Cuba. He speaks several languages fluently, and received a certificate as a mining engineer. His family came to this country three years ago and their son is enjoying leave of absence and a vacation here. He may remain permanently in this country.

BOY TOLD OF TORTURE.

Said Father and Aunt Applied Hot Iron to His Little Brother.

SHARON, PA., June 4.—(Special.)—Seven-year-old James Washington, colored, told Justice T. O. Hazen how his father and 13-year-old Cora Bolan, a sister of Mrs. Washington, tortured, beat and burned him and his six-year-old brother Willie, whose death occured Tuesday. Washington, the father, was arrested yesterday on complaint of Humane Officer James A. Sheasley of Sharpsville. The father was bound over for court, and in default of $1,000 bail was taken to Mercer jail.

The older son said that Cora Bolan had pounded Willie over the head with a poker, and afterwards heated the poker to a red glow and held it against Willie's leg while the father held him. Upon his testimony an information was made against the girl charging her with being the direct cause of Willie's death. She was taken to jail and bound over without bail. While the hearing was in progress the office was surrounded by an angry crowd that needed only a leader to incite them to frenzied violence.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 4.—(Special.)—Although the plans and specifications of the new court house of Westmoreland county were amended in the hope of reducing the cost of the structure, the lowest bid submitted at the third opening this afternoon, was higher than the winning bid at the second opening, on August 14, 1902. Drake & Caldwell of Columbus, Ind., were again the lowest bidders. For a structure of Webb granite they bid $888,430. They also agreed to erect the building with Cleveland sandstone for $827,227. Last November this same firm was awarded the contract, but the award was not approved by the court. Their bids at the second opening were $872,300 for Webb granite and $709,000 for a sandstone structure.

The other bidders today were George W. Good & Co. of Greensburg and William Miller & Sons and the Henry Shenk Company of Pittsburgh. The commissioners did not award the contract. BOY IS CHARGED WITH MANY ACTS OF ARSON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., June 4.—Willie Rosensteel, 16 years old, was arrested yesterday near Herminie after an exciting chase, previous to which, it is alleged, he had set fire to a barn on William Longhuer's farm. Four fires have occurred since Monday between Edna and Arona, and Rosensteel will be charged with all of them. The first was on the Tilbrook farm, where a large barn and contents were destroyed, entailing a loss of $5,000. The next fires were on the Garlow and Leonard farms, where the stables were burned. On the Jacob Rosensteel farm, the home of the boy, the stable was destroyed.

All day yesterday farmers in the vicinity were hunting for the boy. When caught he would say nothing. He was taken before a Herminie justice of the peace and held for court. Rosensteel worked on the farm with his father.

COUPLE REUNITED IN CONNELLSVILLE HOSPITAL

Pittsburgh Woman Finds Husband Dying After Eight Years' Separation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., June 4.—After a separation of eight years, Michael Gagan of Oliver, and his wife, who has been living at 116 Winnebago street, Pittsburgh, were today united in the Cottage State hospital, where Gagan lies dying. April 18 of this year Gagan, who had been working at Oliver mines, was walking toward his home when he got into an altercation with railroad section men. In the fight that followed he was severely beaten, he says, with a crowbar.

During the long days that he has occupied a cot in the hospital, he has worried greatly over his family troubles. Finally he made a confident of a convalescent patient, who, prompted by motives of kindness, obtained the permission of the superintendent, Miss Haideman, to write Mrs. Gagan of her husband's condition. Mrs. Gagan will arrange to have her husband removed to her home.

PERSONALS

Thomas Temple of Liverpool, England, dealer in hemp material and ropes, claims that his business is at a standstill by the inability to secure Manilla hemp. "The price of rope," he said, "is bound to advance on account of the war in the Philippines. Over 50 per cent of the hemp grown in and about Manilla was burned by the soldiers. Many hemp growers have requested the United States to assist in repairing the damage done during the war. Many farms have been devastated and before hemp can be grown as formerly much repair work must be done." Mr. Temple is here on a pleasure trip. He went to Chicago last night, and will visit Niagara Falls, Toronto, and other Canadian cities before returning to Liverpool.

Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of Chicago was a passenger on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last night. He was on his way home after attending the session of the United States supreme court. He was accompanied by his wife. When seen last night Justice Fuller said: "This session of court was one in which several important cases came up for consideration. It was a strain on my nerves and I am pleased to be able to take a rest. It is not proper at this time to say anything about the presidential candidates, but I think the country will continue to enjoying prosperity. I need a rest and am going to take one."

Congressman Halvor Steenerson of Crookston, Minn., accompanied by Attorney L. H. Bailey of Birnidji, Minn., were passengers on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last night on their way home from Washington. Their mission to the capital was to induce the United States officials to establish a land office at Birnidji. There is a fight for the office between Birnidji and Cass Lake. The towns are 16 miles apart. Land offices as a rule bring considerable money into it, and it is principally for this reason that both are fighting for it.

Ex-Police Magistrate Bernard McKenna, who has been ill for several days at his home, No. 6225 Marchand street, with a complication of stomach troubles, is recuperating. It is expected that Mr. McKenna will be about in a few weeks.

MAYOR HAYS PROMISES A GREAT FOURTH OF JULY FOR THIS YEAR

Pittsburgh for years has been the center of patriotic enthusiasm on Independence Day. Last year President Roosevelt made one of his greatest speeches to a multitude in Schenley Park. This year's celebration must be no less notable.

The expenses of our Fourth of July celebration come spontaneously from our business men. Councils make no appropriation of money out of the city treasury.

About $25,000 was spent for the Fourth of July of 1902. Contributions should be sent at once, payable to the mayor and sent to him. Detailed arrangements for a great celebration are being made in full confidence that contributions will be ample to defray expenses.

W. B. HAYS, Mayor.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Boston at Exposition Park.
New York at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Cincinnati.
Brooklyn at St. Louis.

Shutouts are popular things with the Pirates these days. They indulged in another of them yesterday, and Al Buckenberger's Bostons were the victims, the score being a duplicate of the one on Wednesday, and the registered figures were Pittsburgh 8, Boston 0.

There was a crowd of 2,900 lovers of the game over to see the contest and the treat furnished them was a pleasant morsel, made all the more so because the boy to turn the trick was Irwin Wilhelm, the Southern league product, whose early experiences were anything but encouraging, in fact, there were some people who seemed to want to tie a tag on the Ohio youth and ship him back to the minors. These same people were the loudest in their applause of Wilhelm's clever work yesterday, which was sweet revenge for the new man.

Wilhelm's work yesterday was certainly all that any reasonable person could ask for, in fact, it was very much in keeping with the gilt edge displays put up by Phillippe and Leever against the Giants. He held the Boston batters to five hits and in no inning was more than one hit scored against him, which is pretty fair pitching for a youngster. What is more, only two Boston runners got as far as third base and had the play on the Pirates' side been clean only one runner would have reached that station.

Wilhelm did not appear to use a great amount of speed, but he used what proved more effective, a fine assortment of curves which the Boston batters could not solve. They tried hard enough, goodness knows, but their efforts generally resulted in pop-ups or easy infield bounders. The only visitor to make free with the curves at all was Dick Cooley, who managed to work in a single and a two-bagger.

The Pirates for the first time in many weeks presented a solid front. Manager Clarke was back at his old stand in right field and this fact made ridiculous the story of a sensational writer yesterday of a quarrel between the manager and the club owner. The reappearance on the team of the old leader seemed to infuse new life into the players, who went about their work in a manner pleasing to the spectators.

Wiley Platt, who in the old days used to come here in a Quaker uniform and make playthings of Pirate batters, was on the rubber for Boston and while, taking as a whole, he pitched a fairly good game, yet there were spots where the champions solved his puzzlers and runs resulted. Platt's support was not of the best and this furnished more chances for tallies. Greminger at third base put up a very poor game, which was unusual for him, as he always has played good ball here.

The first four innings were devoid of runs for the Pirates, although in the third they got two hits and a stolen base, but could not get a run. The first tally came in the fifth, when Ritchey waited on a base on balls, was sacrificed to second by Phelps, stole third and got home on Kittridge's wild throw, which was intended to head him off at third. The error in this case goes to the catcher, although it really belonged to the third baseman, who made a very clumsy attempt to get the ball.

A batting rally by Clarke, Sebring and Wagner was productive of three runs in the sixth. Clarke led off with single and took third on Sebring's two-bagger to left. Both runners scored on Wagner's single to right. A sacrifice by Ritchey brought out Hans' sprinting ability and he went all the way to third on the out at first. Bransfield sent up a high foul fly which Veney gathered in and Wagner scored on the out, making a great slide for the plate. In the eighth Sebring drew a base on balls, reached third on Platt's wild throw intended to head him off at second and scored on Leach's out at first. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Tommy Leach's catch of Tenney's foul fly in the first inning was one of the fielding features of the game. Tommy had a long run for the ball and captured it right under the shadows of the grandstand. The catch was loudly applauded by the spectators.

It will be Doheny against Pittinger today, and another first-class game may be looked for. The Pirates gave the ex-Greensburger a merry pounding but it's not often a thing of that kind occurs. Pittinger is a clever pitcher and one of the hardest losers in the business.

Bransfield was given a merry chase in the fourth inning after he had reached first by forcing Sebring out at second. "Kitty" made several attempts to purloin second, but each time a foul prevented the steal. This was rather aggravating and when Leach finally went out on a fly the big first baseman was panting for breath.

Pitcher Platt has a very tiresome habit of throwing to first base in an effort to catch runners which never succeeds. Platt and Tenney keep up a regular cross fire with the ball, and this act is very tiresome to the spectators, who yelled at the Boston pitcher to cut it out and play ball. Platt, however, paid no attention to the yells of the crowd.

Third Baseman Greminger, by a clever catch, saved Tenney from an error in the sixth inning. Wagner, who was on first, went all the way to third on Ritchey's sacrifice, and Tenney, in trying to head Hans off, threw wild, but Greminger made a side leap and just managed to get the ball in his left hand. The spectators rewarded the catch with a round of applause.

When Manager Clarke first appeared at bat yesterday the grandstand spectators gave him a warm welcome, but it was nothing to the glad hand given by the left field bleacherites, who regard Clarke as their special hero. The Pirates' leader showed that his layoff had not affected his batting eye, as he cracked out two pretty singles, besides stealing a base just to show he had not forgotten how.

Weaver, the fall ex-Cardinal who was purchased by the Pittsburgh club owners, got in from St. Louis last night and will be out in uniform today. There is not much chance for the new man getting in the game as long as Eddie Phelps continues the kind of work he has been putting up lately. Phelps' catching will rank with the best in the league, and what is better still, is the fact that he is showing improved form every day.

Abbatichio, the second baseman of the Boston team, hails from Latrobe, and there was a large delegation of his friends in the stand. When he first appeared at bat in the opening inning, Umpire Johnstone handed him a neatly wrapped package and the Boston players gathered round. When it was opened it was found to contain a handsome and costly diamond ring. The crowd wanted him to make a hit, but the best he could do was a hot grounder to Ritchey, who fielded him out at first.

SAVED A SHUTOUT.

The Giants Took the First Game from Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Three consecutive hits, two of them a triple, were all that saved the Giants from a shut-out. Mathewson pitched a fine game and was backed up perfectly. Lundgren was hit hard and often and received ragged support. Bowerman's catching was the star feature. Attendance 7,600. Score:

WON BY BROOKLYN.

The Pitching of Schmidt Was Too Much for the Cardinals.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—The Brooklyns made their initial appearance here this season and took the first game from the St. Louisians 5 to 2. Schmidt, who pitched for the Brooklyns, kept the locals at his mercy throughout the game. Mike O'Neil was batted out of the box in the fifth inning. Currie succeeded him and did much better work. Attendance 1,678. The score:

LOST HARD-LUCK GAME.

Jamestown Takes Battle from Homestead Through Errors in Seventh.

A single to left, with two on bases by Hopper, which was fumbled by Tate, allowed two runs to score and permit the Jamestown (N. Y.) aggregation to beg a pitchers' battle from Risher's Homestead crowd 3 to 1. It was a warm argument all the way between Pattison, the young Maryland pitcher, and Bennett, formerly of Wheeling, both pitching shutout ball. Homestead scored its only run on an error and Jamestown got its three the same way. The visitors secured five hits to Homestead's four but by perfect fielding Hopper's single would not have proved so disastrous.

In the seventh, with two out, Hawkins hit and Bennett stopped a fast inshoot. Hopper singled over McCloskey's head and Tate, who was coming in fast, let it get through his hands and both runners scored. Violet got around in the first on a walk, Edmundson's sacrifice, third on McCloskey's out and home on Reed's drop of Cosgrove's fly. Hopper walked in Jamestown's first round, was sacrificed by Breen, third on a passed ball. Reed, who was hit, started the double steal with Hopper scoring home. McCloskey took Coursey's throw and fired the ball home, but Coursey dropped it and Hopper scored. The made two fine catches in left, and his triple in the ninth with two out went to the left field fence. Score:

ATTACKED BY HORSE.

Jockey Bullman So Badly Injured He May Die.

NEW YORK, June 4.—While Jockey Bullman, who was engaged to ride McChesney in the Chicago derby, was rubbing down his valuable trotting horse The Ravens, at Sheepshead Bay today, the animal attacked him with hoofs and teeth and so severely injured him that his life is despaired of.

Had it not been for Hiram Pierce, who was in the stable and beat the crazy brute with an iron bar, Bullman would have been killed outright. It was found that a big piece had been bitten out of the boy's left side, and that the teeth of the horse had lacerated his chest and left shoulder. One of his ribs is broken and he is otherwise injured.

FIGHT FOR PLACE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 4.—W. S. Fanshawe's Heno captured the Standard stakes at Gravesend today, defeating Africander the odds-on favorite, and Major Daingerfield, who last year was regarded for a time as the best 3-year-old in training. Heno broke the record for the race and equalled the track record by running the mile and a half in 2:32. Africander broke in front but Heno soon took the lead and led into the back stretch. Then Africander came again but maintained his lead for only a short distance. Passing the mile pole Michaels sent Heno to the front end, holding his advantage to the end, winning by three lengths. There was a hard fight for the place, the favorite just beating the Major a short head. Summaries:

LAULER WILL NOT COMPROMISE

Councilman Will Insist That Elford Be Recognized as Chairman.

SAYS FIGHT MUST GO ON

Fourteenth Ward Citizens Fail to Get Together—Republican County Committee Meets June 13—Prohibitionists Name a Ticket.

Common Councilman John Lauler of the Fourteenth ward is opposed to any plan to compromise the trouble of the Citizens party in the ward. He will insist that the organization headed by William Elford be recognized by the city committee.

When Select Councilman James J. Booth and James McQuaide, backers of Elford, discovered yesterday the trouble caused by the turning down of W. J. Moore as ward chairman they started to talk compromise. Their plan is for the factions to get together and select a leader both can follow.

Lauler was the real leader of the Elford forces and he is full of fight. He called at the mayor's office yesterday and had a long conference with Hays. Lauler says that if Elford is not recognized the Citizens party in the Fourteenth will bring much trouble upon itself. He claims that the Elford forces are the vote producers of the party.

In the Thirteenth ward tonight there is to be a fight for control of the Citizens committee. Select Councilman Schempp and Common Councilman Schad are at war.

Chairman A. C. Robertson of the Republican county committee says that the body will be called together for organization on June 13. So far L. L. Davis of Homestead is the only man prominently mentioned for chairman.

Director Clark of the department of charities yesterday appointed Dr. Wilbur M. Holtz second assistant physician at Marshalsea. Dr. Holtz is a former newspaper man who was graduated from West Penn Medical college this spring.

The Citizens party of the Thirty-second ward last night elected Lud Keifer chairman, Charles Reynolds vice chairman, James Graham secretary, R. J. Burnside treasurer. W. J. Wallace was chosen as a member of the committee of 58.

The county Prohibition convention was held in the East End board of trade rooms yesterday. There were about 50 delegates present. This ticket was nominated:

Prothonotary, H. C. Sawyer of Ingram; district attorney, M. H. Stevenson of Pittsburgh; jury commissioner, J. C. Baldridge of McKeesport; director of the poor, C. M. Ekey of West Pittsburgh.

The Rev. Henry F. Lutz was elected chairman of the county executive committee; H. G. Wanstedt, secretary, and J. C. Porter, treasurer. H. C. Sawyer, John A. McConnell, J. W. Houston, J. S. Johnston, Dr. W. C. Wallace, M. H. Dible, A. G. Glass, Dr. S. Campbell, Dr. Calhoun, J. T. McClelland, M. B. Stevenson, G. H. Garber, T. P. Hershberger, Charles A. Albert and G. P. Anderson were elected members of the committee, with power to increase their number to 25.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing the Salus-Grady libel bill and demanding its repeal.

WEDDING DAY DELAYED

Kansas Floods Prevent Lieut. Early from Reaching Finleyville, Pa.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 4.—(Special.)—Lieutenant Orson Leo Early, U. S. A., commander of a troop of cavalry at Fort Riley, Kan., is journeying eastward as fast as flooded roads will allow him, and in Finleyville the young woman to whom he was to have been married today, is waiting for him amid the decorations of a ceremony unperformed. The wedding was to have been the event of the season in Finleyville, where Miss Helen Boggs is the belle. She is a daughter of George Boggs, and a niece of Henry Boggs of the Allegheny firm of Boggs & Buhl.

Miss Boggs had hastened home from New Mexico a few days ago to prepare for her marriage, and the clergyman, the Rev. William Brown of Canonsburg, had called from Florida to officiate. Many invitations had been issued and guests were present from Pittsburgh and other points.

The hour for the ceremony drew near and not only was the bridegroom not present, but no explanation of his absence had been received. The guests were in dismay when a messenger boy appeared with a telegram. It was dated Tuesday, and Lieut. Early expressed profound disappointment in stating that washouts had compelled his delay, and that although in this extremity he was even then riding east on horseback as rapidly as possible, he would not reach Finleyville at the appointed hour. However, he concluded, he hoped to be on the scene of his wedding by tomorrow.

The guests turned the occasion into an informal reception. When Lieut. Early arrives the wedding will be solemnized quietly.

Allotment of Teachers to Remain Next Year the Same as During the Present Month—Members of Sub-District Boards Formally Organize.

The High school committee of the central board of education last night recommended the re-election of Director Edward Byngarson and the faculties of the Central, Fifth avenue, and South Side high schools. Frederick C. Harrison and H. G. Reeses, who have been classified as teachers in the commercial department, were promoted to masters.

E. J. McDonald, superintendent; T. J. Little, janitor, and William Milby, engineer, at the Fifth avenue high school, were re-elected, and Milby's salary was raised from $900 to $1,000. Thomas E. Eicher was re-elected janitor and Charles Andrews fireman at the South Side high school. An attempt to raise Eicher's salary from $1,000 to $1,100 failed.

The teachers' and salaries committee last night recommended a resolution providing that the allotment of teachers for the next school term be the same as for this month, provided that the committee on teachers and salaries shall have power to reduce the allotment made in any district, when, in its judgment, the assignment of teachers granted is in excess of the number necessary.

PROBABLY FATALLY SHOT BY OFFICER

COSHOCTON, O., June 4.—(Special.)—Edward Callentine of Coshocton, was perhaps fatally shot in a saloon duel with a United States marshal at New Comerstown tonight. It is alleged that Callentine had gone to a New Comerstown residence to make a call and his actions necessitated his hostess calling the police. Callentine fled and when found in the bar room of a hotel opened fire on the marshal with a gun in each hand. The marshal's aim was better and he fired but once, the bullet striking Callentine near the heart.

BATHING SEASON AT THE SEASHORE

Atlantic City Visitors in Large Numbers Venture Into the Water.

THEY FIND IT VERY PLEASANT

Bath Houses Open for the Summer and Mayor Is Considering the Advisability of Placing a Number of Lifeguards on Duty.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 4.

There was real summer weather today and as a result there were more bathers than on any other day this year. The mayor will soon be obliged to place on duty several life guards. Those who were in the ocean said that the water was fine. It was not any colder than it was during the month of July last year, when there were many thousands of bathers. The bath houses have all opened their places of business.

Owing to the inability of United States Treasurer Shaw, to be in Atlantic City on June 19 or 20 the banquet of the New Jersey Bankers association is to be postponed. It will be held some time during the month as the secretary says that he can arrange a date.

The city health inspectors who have been making a house to house inspection of the north side of Atlantic City completed their labors yesterday. They reported that the town can show a clean bill of health. Not a contagious case was found and the sanitary condition of houses, lots and yards were as perfect as possible.

RUSSIAN PRESS THINKS AMERICA IS UNGRATEFUL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—The relations between the United States and Russia are much discussed here. The Novoe Vremya prints a signed leading article, headed "Russia and America," which says:

The United States, from time to time, enters the arena of the anti-Russian propaganda, which finds favorable soil in its politically unripe population, without governmental traditions, and carried away by the successes of its "new imperialistic policy." The Siberian prisons, the Manchurian open door, the Kishineff disorders—all of these serve as a pretext as the anti-Russian meetings so advantageous to Russia's enemies. While Secretary Hay's stubborn Anglophilism lends governmental importance to the claims of the various groups of American traders and missionaries in the far east, our diplomatic agents' activity in America must take a different course from the diplomacy of Europe. We must create a party and explain our designs and position, not only to Mr. Hay but to the people also, which is always the same. They insist on it through the American press, which, notwithstanding its defects, seems to be not only the mirror but the leader of American public opinion.

The editor of the Syromiatnikoff says:

Thrice in America have been found hearty Russian sympathies, but Russia remains dumb while the American papers are filled with all possible accusations against Russia from English, German and Jewish sources. Count Cassini excellently defends our political interests, but he cannot undertake a newspaper controversy, so the accusations remain unanswered.

The article further complains that the American school histories contain nothing relative to the friendship shown by Russia to the United States at the foundation and in the defense of the union. The editorial concludes:

The Russian foreign office should publish in English a sketch of relations between the Russian and American governments, beginning with the time of Catherine and ending with the Spanish-American war, from both diplomatic archives and American published records, and send the same to 3,000 American papers. If a third of this number notice the book a sympathetic movement will be inaugurated in our country. With its tremendous importance it is a great error to despise the American press in conducting our foreign affairs.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT.

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of 10, in order to weigh as much as they ought to and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-former, food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Mi-o-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely and permanently cures the worst forms of dyspepsia.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Mi-o-na Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown avenues, will return your money without any questions. What other medicine is sold on this plan?

Society

A HANDSOMELY appointed reception of yesterday afternoon was given from 3 until 6 o'clock by Mrs. Allen Kirkpatrick at her home in Braddock, which is a spacious residence. The guests of honor were two nieces of the hostess, Mrs. Wilbur Shenk, formerly Miss Rebecca Challant of Etna, and Mrs. Nathan Augustus Weed, who was Miss Ida McKee Aiken, both of whom were married within the year. They received in an alcove of the long drawing room, which had a setting of tall foliaged plants. Clusters of white lilies and roses appeared throughout the room. Mrs. Kirkpatrick was handsomely gowned in black voile and her honor guests wore their wedding gowns, Mrs. Shenk appearing in ivory satin trimmed in pointe lace, while Mrs. Weed wore an all-lace robe. Refreshments were served in both the dining room and the Japanese apartment. The former was decorated in pink roses, which formed a centerpiece, and were also arranged upon the four corners of the table. Yellow iris were used in the Japanese room, which is a typical oriental apartment. Clusters of long-stemmed American beauty roses added to the attractiveness of the library, which is finished in weathered oak.

During the reception hours a small group of intimate friends assisted Mrs. Kirkpatrick about the rooms. They, with their husbands, were entertained later at dinner. Music was furnished at both affairs by a stringed orchestra stationed in the upper hall.

Taggart—Spangler.

The old Taggart home in Arlington avenue and Buena Vista street, Allegheny, was the scene of a large and handsome wedding last evening, the bride being Miss Mary Watson Taggart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taggart, and Penn Sylian Spangler, formerly of Somerset, Pa. The marriage ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock in the large double parlors, by the Rev. R. J. Young, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church of Pittsburgh. Nearly 200 relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom were present, the large house being filled with guests. The bride was given away by her father and was attended by Mrs. C. Edward Keck, as matron of honor, and Miss Florence Boswell of Bellevue, the bridesmaid. C. Edward Keck was the best man and there were two ushers, Bert D. Taggart and John A. Slough.

The parlors, where the ceremony was performed, were elaborately decorated in pink and green. Small tropical plants banked the two mantelpieces, while lowering palms formed a semi-circle at the end of the long apartment, where the bridal party stood. Behind this screen of palms the musicians were stationed. The chandeliers were wreathed with vines and pink roses, while the lights were prettily shaded in pink and masses of pink roses were suspended from the spreading arms. In the library, across the hall, the decorations were similarly arranged, red roses wreathing the chandelier, while American Beauty roses added to the richness of color. The dining room was in pink and green. The bride's table stood in the center of the apartment and was surrounded by many small tables at which the guests were served.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white voile modishly fashioned and trimmed with duchess lace. Her veil was of tulle and fastened with lilies of the valley, while she carried a shower bouquet of the same flowers. Her only ornament was a cluster of diamonds, the gift of the bridegroom. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids were gowned in white Persian mull trimmed with Valenciennes lace. The matron of honor carried a cluster of white carnations, while the bridesmaid carried a bouquet of white roses and maidenhair ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler will take a wedding trip and on their return will live with the bride's father and mother until they find a home of their own. Among the out-of-town guests present last evening were Mrs. Spangler and the Misses Spangler of Somerset, Pa., the mother and sisters of the bridegroom.

At a Franklin Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place at Franklin, Tuesday evening, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Grimm, when their daughter, Miss Evelyn Grimm, became the wife of Edward Elliott Jenkins of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Brewster Beattie, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The bride was exquisitely gowned in a white lace robe over chiffon satin and carried bride's roses. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms, which had been worn by her mother at her marriage. The bride and bridegroom were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins left later for a trip east. At its conclusion they will live in Morewood avenue, Shadyside. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. T. Clifton Jenkins, Alfred E. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Glaim and De Grimm Renfrew, all of this city. The bride has frequently visited in this city and the engagement was announced last fall at a reception which her sister, Mrs. Thomas J. Blair, gave.

Tea for Bride and Maids.

Mrs. William C. King of Wineoiddle avenue gave a delightful and informal afternoon tea yesterday in honor of Miss Mary Baggaley and the girls who will be maids at her wedding tomorrow afternoon. This evening Mrs. William Harrison Smith of Marchand street will give a dinner at the Union club, preceding the rehearsal, which will be conducted at the Shadyside Presbyterian church, where the ceremony will be performed tomorrow afternoon at 3. Miss Baggaley and David King Irwin's wedding party will include Miss Julia McBride, maid of honor; Miss Elsie Mitchel and Miss Annabel Baggaley, bridesmaids; Walter Yayne Irwin of New York, best man, and six ushers, Preston Schoyer, Thomas R. Hartley, Robert Pitcairn, Jr., Gross Mac-Connell and Robert Baggaley of this city; Albert P. Bissell of Philadelphia and Eben J. Watson of New York.

Mrs. W. S. Dalzell Entertained.

The visit to Milwaukee of Mrs. W. S. Dalzell of Pittsburgh has been made the occasion for a dozen notable society affairs. Not a day has gone by since her arrival there last week that there has not been some dinner or luncheon in her honor. Last week the Misses Green gave a buffet luncheon for the Pittsburgh visitor. Mrs. Vance, the wife of a well-known shipowner, entertained at bridge whist for Mrs. Dalzell, and a luncheon and dinner were given by Miss Ida Lane and Mrs. E. P. Vilas. This week the social affairs have continued. A second luncheon and drive were given by Miss Lane, followed by a dinner by Mrs. Oliver Clyde Muller. Mrs. H. E. Whitcomb, wife of the president of the Wisconsin Central railroad, was also one of the hostesses, giving a bridge whist party for Mrs. Dalzell.

Some Future Entertainments.

Mrs. Anthony W. Smith will give a garden party on Monday evening, June 15, at her home in Boggs avenue, Washington in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Anthony W. Smith of Ellwood street, East End.

Miss Anna Vera Sheibler of Bouquet street will give a linen shower on Saturday afternoon, June 13, for Miss Louise Edmundson, whose marriage to Dr. Frederick Sanford will take place on Tuesday evening, June 30.

The Conus club will give its first summer dance at Kennywood park on Monday evening, June 15. The committee of arrangements includes W. A. Gilleland, Jr., R. A. Brazzell, S. L. Blachly, Jr., and V. J. Knorr, Jr.

Two Hostesses in Sewickley.

Mrs. Frank E. Rutan and Mrs. Frank E. Richardson gave a handsomely appointed 4 o'clock tea at their home, "Fleming Place," Sewickley, yesterday afternoon. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Fletcher Coleman and her daughter, Miss Josephine Coleman of Williamsport, Pa., who are guests of Mrs. Arthur B. Starr. Forty guests were present and the house was decorated with an abundance of pink and red roses, all of which were secured from Fleming place. The hostesses and honor guests received together and were assisted by Mrs. George H. Clapp, Miss Elizabeth Love, Mrs. Theodore Nevin, Miss Amelia Oliver and Miss Springer Harbaugh.

Duquesne Garden Party.

Miss Edna Forbes of Braddock avenue, Swissvale, will give a theater party at Duquesne garden Saturday night in honor of her guests, the Misses Chester of New York city. After the performance of "Rob Roy" the members of the party will go to the Hotel Schenley, where supper will be served.

Gould—Wing.

A quiet church wedding last evening was that of Miss Mary P. Gould of Broad street, East End, and Harry Wing of Columbus, O. The marriage was solemnized in St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, by the Rev. E. H. Young. The wedding occurred three months in advance of the day first chosen, the hastening of the wedding day being due to the fact that Mr. Wing, who is in the government service as an expert chemist, has been ordered to British Columbia. He will take his bride with him.

Speer—Myler.

The marriage of Miss Cecil Alline Speer to Karl V. Myler was a prettily appointed ceremony of last evening in East End avenue at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Q. Speer. Half past seven o'clock was the hour of the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and an uncle, the Rev. Martin L. Streator of Cleveland, officiated, with the assistance of the Rev. Dr. M. P. Shrom of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh. The guest list included about 70 of the relatives and intimate friends. The bridal gown was an exquisite creation of embroidered white silk, trimmed in lace and made with a demi-train. A shower of lilies of the valley was carried. Both the bride and bridegroom were unattended. After the reception and supper Mr. Myler and his bride left for a trip of several weeks. "At home" cards will not be issued until after their return in July. Both are members of old and well-known families.

Horn—Jordan.

In Carlisle, Pa., on Wednesday evening, the marriage of Miss Helen R. Horn and William A. Jordan was solemnized. The wedding was a large and beautifully appointed affair, and among the guests were several Pittsburgh people. In the wedding party were H. L. Litchfield of this city, who was best man, and Otto Swensson, who was an usher. The bridegroom is one of the younger members of the Allegheny county bar.

Reception and Cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Johnston gave a reception and card party last evening at their home in Wightman street, Squirrel Hill. The house was handsomely decorated with plants and flowers and the guests included the married friends of the host and hostess who later surrounded the card tables.

Notes of Society.

The festivities incident to commencement at the Pennsylvania College for Women opened last evening with the annual pupils' concert.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Elsie Kelso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelso, and Paul Donaldson of Canonsburg. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents Tuesday, June 16.

BELGRADE, SERVIA—The only foundation for the report that King Alexander's French cook had committed suicide at the palace after having been detected in an attempt to poison Queen Draga, is that a scullion employed in the palace committed suicide a week ago on account of a love affair.

Women's Clubs

THE Union Whist club was entertained yesterday morning and afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Fremont Shafer in South Negley avenue. The women surrounded four tables which were placed on the enclosed piazzas, and there they played before luncheon and throughout the afternoon. It was a very delightful conclusion to the busy season. Mrs. Shafer will sail for Europe next Wednesday and the entertaining of the club yesterday was in the nature of a farewell. The Whist league closed its season a couple of weeks ago, but several of the individual clubs who compose it have been holding meetings since then, nearly all now having closed their regular meetings until fall. In the intermission in the series of games for the serving of luncheon the guests were given an opportunity to see the fine display of orchids which Dr. Shafer has cultivated with so much enthusiasm.

United Presbyterian Women's Meet.

A large gathering of enthusiastic and philanthropic women met at the United Presbyterian Orphans Home in Allegheny yesterday for the annual reception and donation. The Memorial Hospital was also opened to guests and the two institutions were visited by several hundred men and women during the afternoon and evening. They received some handsome donations both in money and in provisions and supplies. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. George Shaw, Mrs. J. A. Curry, Mrs. A. H. Calvert, Mrs. M. F. 15 Per Cent Discount on Diamonds.

During June, prior to my annual European trip to buy diamonds, a discount of 15 per cent from regular retail prices will be allowed on all cash purchases of diamonds, watches, clocks, cut glass and sterling silver. As rough diamonds continue to advance, now is the time to secure bargains in diamonds and precious stones.

Because it can be prepared in over 250 different ways
It is thoroughly cooked and ready for instant use.
To Women Who Think
Dishes prepared with Shredded Wheat are not only attractive to the eye and pleasing to the palate—but appeal to the reason.
The great food conservatory in which it is made is sun-flooded through 30,000 lights of glass, coursed by filtered and uniformly tempered air and finished in white enamel. It is a purer and more hygienic place than the cleanest kitchen—a place where contamination cannot occur.
No other cereal food has as great a surface for the action of the digestive fluids as Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit. This is true because the wheat is not crushed into dense masses but spun out into porous shreds. These shreds are crisp and compel thorough mastication, which strengthens the teeth and insures complete digestion.
Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit perfectly nourishes the whole body and purifies the digestive tract.

CORNER PLOT IS SOLD FOR $56,000

The McGeagh Holdings at Fifth Ave. and Federal Street Changed Hands.

$125,000 CONTRACT AWARDED

Penn Avenue Sale of $40,000 Reported. Contractors Delayed by Ruins of Old Buildings — Apartment Houses for Wilkinsburg—Suburban Deals.

Another big sale of property on Grant hill, announced yesterday, indicates that interest in realty in this section is keeping up better than in any other part of the city. The property sold is the McGeagh holdings, at the northwest corner of Fifth avenue and Federal street, and the consideration reported was $56,000. The plot is slightly irregular, having a frontage of 64 feet in Fifth avenue and 121 feet in Federal street, with a width in the rear of 57 feet. Three two-story brick buildings occupied as stores and dwellings, cover the front of the lot. Isaac Goldstein of the Fifth Avenue Realty Company and other business men of that locality, are said to be the buyers. The property is only three squares from the court house, and in the event of the hump removal would be a very valuable corner.

HOME WILL COST $125,000.

Work was started yesterday on excavating the foundations for the building of the Christian Home for Working Girls in Duquesne way. On the rear of the Hotel Lincoln. The contract has been awarded to John F. Trimble & Bro. at a figure approximating $125,000. The plans of the architects, Mueller & East, call for a 5-story brick building, with a frontage of 65½ 140 feet. It will be strictly fireproof and in its appointments will rival a first-class hotel. On the first floor will be the offices of the home and a large dining room. The library, parlors and reception hall will occupy the second floors. The two upper floors are to be used entirely for sleeping apartments. A feature of their arrangement is that every bedroom in the building will have direct outside light and the best of ventilation. A large number of marble bath rooms with shower baths will be placed on the upper floors. The building will accommodate 225 girls and will enable the home to extend its work greatly, as in its former cramped quarters in Eighth street it was obliged to turn away many applicants. It is expected to have the building completed by January 1.

EXCAVATIONS ARE DELAYED.

The death of Contractor John Walsh has proven a serious hindrance to several large building projects. While the contracts made by him are being carried on by his foreman, with the permission of his bondsmen, work is proceeding very slowly. The delay in the teaching of the ruins of the First Presbyterian church in Wood street seems a summer's work, at the rate it is now going on and other contracts with the Wabash are not making much better progress. Now that the supply of material and labor is fairly good contractors are eager to push all building operations, as every day now is worth nearly two in the winter.

Gould City, the new Wabash suburb near Peppletown, will be opened to the public tomorrow, promises to be one of the most inviting propositions ever submitted to lot buyers, judging by the way they are hustling to be present. Over 2,000 tickets had been issued up to last night by the Freehold Real Estate Company for the excursion. An average of 100 inquiries by mail have been received since Monday, indicating that the desire to locate in the new railroad center is not confined to Pittsburghers alone.

PENN AVENUE DEAL OF $40,000.

The sale is reported of a residence property 20x100 feet, in Penn avenue, near Eighteenth street, the purchase price being $40,000. The reputed buyer is George Younger, who, it is said, will raze the old house on the lot and erect in its place a modern five-story warehouse.

Naman Jason has conveyed to A. K. McCutcheon a property 16x122 feet, on the north side of Marston street, Twenty-third ward, for $16,200. The lot is improved with four brick houses.

Through the agency of W. L. Stewart James Fleming has sold to Catherine Mella a vacant lot 100x125 feet, at the corner of Lowell and Carver streets, Twenty-first ward, for $11,000. The buyer will improve the site with two brick houses costing $8,000 each. The same broker sold for Charles Barker to No. 5 Snyder a nine-room brick house, on lot 25x80 feet, in Ellwood street, near South Highland avenue, Twentieth ward, for $6,200.

TWO FLATS WILL COST $30,000.

Plans are being prepared by Architects A. Dudgeon & Son for two apartment houses to be built in Wilkinsburg for the Thomas Tennant estate, of which Mrs. O. H. Meacham and Mrs. Josephine Tennant are executors. The houses erected in Penn avenue and will have the first floor used for store rooms. The other is to be built in North avenue. Each building will be three stories high and 72 feet square.

Architects Milligan & Miller are preparing plans for a residence for G. Gerwick, to be erected in Franklin avenue, near Pitt street, Wilkinsburg, at a cost of $12,000. Simpler in nine-room brick house, on lot 25x80 feet, in Ellwood street, near South Highland avenue, Twentieth ward, for $6,200.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The department of the interior of the national government has just issued, through the United States geological survey, bulletin No. 213 of the series, containing a report and an analysis of the Bisbee district, the result of a geological study of that section by F. L. Ransome. The Warren mining district lies in the central part of the Mule mountains, a small ally northwest-southwest range, some 30 miles in length, extending from the old mining town of Tombstone down to the Mexican border. In the vicinity of Bisbee the range attains an elevation of 7,400 feet and has a width of about 12 miles; but in the neighborhood of Tombstone and near the international boundary they are greatly reduced by clusters of comparatively low hills. On the southwest the Mule mountains are separated by the broad valley of the San Pedro from the Huachuca mountains, and on the northeast by the similar wide expanse of Sulphur Spring valley from the Swisshelm and Chiricahua ranges. On the north a few low hills just southeast of Tombstone connect the Mules with the Dragoon range. The principal bodies of developed copper ore lie south of the town of Bisbee, within a radius of a mile. They occur in carbonaceous limestones on the south west side of a great fault, and closely associated with an intrusive mass of granite porphyry. In the absence of the geological map and sections the relations of the formations perhaps be most clearly presented by a homely illustration. If half of a broken saucer be placed on a table with a fragment edge lying about west-northwest and the back of a book be laid against this edge, we shall have a rough illustration of the geological structure near the town of Bisbee.

A Phoenix (Ariz.) dispatch states that mine employers and laborers are watching with keen interest the development resulting from the operation of the eight-hour law enacted by the last legislative assembly, which has just gone into effect. The United Verde, the Copper Queen and the Calumet & Arizona will be unaffected by the law, as all of their mines and some others in the territory, are already operating under an eight-hour schedule. The Arizona Copper Company, the Detroit Copper Company and the Shannon Copper Company, however, will be affected.

The properties of the Montana Consolidated Mining Company in Ophir canyon and adjoining those of Senator Clark of Montana, are disclosing ores at this time identical with those of the latter. On the 200-foot level, where the management is running east and west on the body, three and a good ore is being followed, while on the 300 level drifts are being run northeast and to the west to connect with the porphyry dyke along which the big ore bodies of the locality occur. With these in hand preparations for a concentrator similar to that in use at the properties of Senator Clark will be provided for the reduction of the ores.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The London tin market was strong and higher again today, spot advancing £1 5s to £143 5s, and futures £1 to £128 10s. Locally tin, affected by the foreign strength, was also firm, closing at $28 75 @29 00. Copper advanced 10s in London to £59 10s for spot and £60 for futures, which closed at £58. Locally copper was nominal at $14 75@ 15 00 for lake and electrolytic, with casting at $14 50@14 75. Lead unchanged at £11 8s 9d in London, and local 4.60@4.65. Spelter advanced 7s 6d to £21 2s 6d in London, while in New York it remained at $5 75. Iron in Glasgow closed at 52s 6d and at 45s 9d in Middlesboro. Locally iron is unsettled. The New York metal exchange has reported its quotations, making No. 1 foundry, northern, $20 00@21 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $19 00@19 50; No. 1 foundry, southern, and No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $19 50@20 00.

The Idler, owned by J. C. Hahn, will be inspected today.

The Greenwood left Wheeling yesterday noon for Pittsburgh. It is doubtful if she reaches this port.

The Sarepta was reported to have started and is due tonight. Nothing has been heard from her along the river.

The collision between the R. L. Aubrey and the Fort Wayne railroad bridge is being investigated Saturday by the local inspectors.

The Rose Hite was the Morgantown packet yesterday. The Sea Columbia will be ready for the Monongahela river trade Saturday.

The following steamers have been forced to tie up at various places: The Boaz at Captina, O.; Alice Brown at Marietta, O.; Joe B. Williams at Buffington, W. Va., and the Dave Wood at Raccoon, Pa.

The J. C. Risher of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, went aground 12 miles below Bellaire at Opposum. She detained the packets below for several hours, as her tow blocked the channel. The packets got by after the tow was swung ashore. The Risher will have to wait for higher water before she can be moved off the bar.

The steamer Enterprise is the only towboat of any size running in the Upper Ohio and local rivers at present. She is a new boat this year, and is the lightest towboat of her power, 18 inch cylinders and a 7 foot stroke. The Enterprise was built under the superintendency of William Arbuckle, the veteran of the ways, which are owned by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co.

LIKELY TO FINISH TODAY.

Rivermen Hold a Full Inning on Fort Wayne Bridge Hearing.

The hearing in the matter of raising the Fort Wayne railroad bridge was resumed yesterday morning before Capt. W. L. Silbert, but was not concluded at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was adjourned to 10 o'clock this morning when it is likely will be finished. The rivermen presented to show that the several sand companies that had fought to raise the bridge were coerced into changing their stand. Capt. W. H. Rodgers made one of his vigorous statements to prove that the railroads had the bill to tax the local sand companies introduced into the state legislature so as to force the sand companies out of the fighting to have the bridge raised. The president of towboats alleged to be able to take care of the trade and not necessitate the altering of the structures was the subject of much discussion on both sides.

Chicago & Northwestern Holds Meeting--Frick Re-Elected Director

Twombley, J. C. Fargo, New York; Zenas Crane, Dalton, Mass., and David P. Kimball, Boston. The annual statement showed gross earnings for the year of $39,041,418, with operating expenses, taxes, interest, etc., amounting to $35,246,314. The surplus for the year over all charges (and incomes not included) was $3,795,104.

A quarterly dividend of two per cent on the preferred stock, and a half yearly dividend of 3½ per cent on the common stock payable were declared. Directors whose terms expired were Albert Keen, Chauncey M. Depew, Samuel F. Barger, James C. Fargo, Henry C. Frick and David P. Kimball. Charge Freight Was Diverted.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—In the circuit court in a suit filed today by the Western Maryland railroad, Judge Dobler granted an order requiring the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to show cause, on June 15, why it should not be permanently enjoined from diverting freight from the plaintiff. An accounting is also asked for by the Western Maryland.

The case relates to the old arrangement between the Western Maryland and the Baltimore & Ohio for the handling by the former of traffic originating on the Philadelphia & Reading. This had developed to be a profitable feature of the business of the Western Maryland railroad, but when that property passed into the hands of the Gould system, it developed that the traffic was to be taken away, and it has since been transferred to the Cumberland Valley railroad.

It is charged that by a secret change or routing a very large amount of freight between August 1, 1902, and May 1, 1903, was thus diverted, amounting to 45,000 carloads, or about 1,000,000 tons of freight. It is averred further in the complaint that the use of tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio loaned locomotives to the Cumberland Valley and also borrowed locomotives from the Western Maryland, upon the pledge of secrecy. Should this be disclosed to the Western Maryland by these specific diversions, it is claimed, was at least $250,000.

Dinner by Traffic Club.

A dinner of farewell and welcome will be given at the Hotel Henry on Saturday of next week at 6:30 p. m. by the Traffic club of Pittsburgh. There will be five guests of honor, three of them leaving the city for new fields, one for other places, and two of whom are newcomers in the local field. They are E. B. Bates, formerly division freight agent of the B. & O. at Pittsburgh, who becomes general freight agent of the Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; G. D. Ogden, who comes from Altoona to succeed him; R. H. Large, who leaves the Anchor Line in this city to succeed Mr. Ogden as division freight agent at Altoona; A. G. Tallant, who is transferred from Pittsburgh to New York as general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, and M. C. Adams, who becomes the local general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern. Previous to the dinner a reception will be held in the hotel parlors at 6:15 p. m. The entire affair is in charge of the entertainment committee of the Traffic club, of which D. F. Hurd, commercial agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, is the chairman. It promises to be an event of great interest in local railroad circles.

Rushing Work on Panhandle.

It is expected that by the opening of the St. Louis exposition the Panhandle will have more than half of the Pittsburgh division in operation as a four-track line. Since the beginning of the year work has progressed rapidly and about 40 miles of third and fourth tracks are now under process of completion at various points between Carnegie and Coshocton, O., have been ordered to be speedily completed. This is where the need of more tracks is felt the greatest between Coshocton and Pittsburg there is a complete double track system with many sidings. All of the Pennsylvania Company's exposition traffic will be run over the Panhandle.

Conection With Coke Fields.

The announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which recently built a line from the Monongahela to Ellsworth, is to extend the road to Washington, will be welcomed by Wheeling manufacturers, as it means direct access from that city to the Connellsville coke fields, which are now tapped by the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad of a great deal of heavy traffic which now has to take the expensive and round-about route to Wheeling by way of Pittsburgh.

Railroad Notes.

F. H. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash, will return from a trip today.

H. D. Bush, division passenger agent, and J. Steitenkamp, central passenger agent of the Louisville & Nashville at Cincinnati, were in the city yesterday.

C. C. Sankey, for many years agent of the Pennsylvania lines at New Castle, was a visitor yesterday at the offices of his former travelling passenger agent of the lines west of Pittsburgh, returned from a business trip through the territory.

The merchants of Freedom and New Brighton will have a joint picnic at Conneaut Lake on July 15. A new large hotel has been completed at that resort and the railroads will have a number of excursions to carry during the coming summer.

C. S. Sims, general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, of Baltimore, was in Pittsburgh yesterday. Together with General Superintendent W. M. Loree he spent several days at McKeesport and at Demmler station, where the ground has been surveyed for the proposed new tunnel.

PREACHER WAS SWINDLED.

Dr. Arundel Lost $25 to a Stranger Through a Forged Telegram.

A neat, clean and well-executed swindle in the vestry of Trinity Episcopal church, Monday afternoon, came to light yesterday. The rector, the Rev. Dr. W. V. Arundel, lost $25 to a smooth stranger.

A well-dressed young man called on Dr. Arundel, said he had attended both services on Sunday, greatly appreciated the two sermons, was a stranger in the city with rooms at the Hotel Lincoln, and that after returning to his hotel he discovered that all his belongings had been stolen. He explained that he needed money.

The rector sympathized with the young man, but declined to help him unless he would furnish the name of some reliable person in Philadelphia, whence the young man said he hailed, who could be communicated with by telegraph, and who would stand as sponsor for him. The German-American Trust Company was wired and the young man said he would return later.

In three-quarters of an hour a reply was received stating that the young man was all right. He came in in five minutes and obtained $25 and departed. A half hour later another message from the Philadelphia trust company arrived stating that the young man was unknown to them. An investigation followed, showing that the first telegram was a forgery. The Western Union company is at present trying to sift the mystery.

LEADERS ARE COMING.

Prominent Hebrew Orators Will Attend Zionist Convention in Pittsburgh.

Jacob Delfman, secretary of the Federation of American Zionists, arrived yesterday from New York city to complete the details for the convention. He came to this country last May to assume the editorship of the Maccabean, the official organ of the American Zionists, and about the same time became the secretary of the Federation.

Dr. P. Mendes, who, it was feared, would be unable to attend the convention, will arrive on Monday morning and will be one of the speakers at the banquet. About 10 delegates arrived yesterday and about 100 will arrive today.

The souvenir program, containing articles on Zionism, poems, illustrations, etc., will be sent gratis to all attending the mass meeting next Sunday evening at the Bijou theater.

THE STOCK MARKET NEARLY DEMORALIZED

Pennsylvania and Amalgamated Copper Break and Unsettle the Entire List—Call Money Higher. Local Securities Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The eastern stock market at times yesterday approached demoralization. Its course fully disproved the theory that the downward movement is the result of a preconcerted bear raid. It acted more as though something were hanging over it, and that investment interests, and not of insignificant proportions either, were being forced to liquidate. Some authorities explained the break Wednesday afternoon as a bear raid pure and simple, and it was said that some traders who had been duped into selling their stock had bought back the same at private sale at higher prices. The course of Pennsylvania yesterday did not support this view. The stock was weak from start to finish, and in the final dealings broke through 124, the lowest at which it has sold since 1899. It closed at 123¾, or about 12 per cent below the lowest price touched in the panic of May, 1901. But for the support of the syndicate that has underwritten the new issue, it is probable the stock would have sold down to or below 120, the price at which stockholders are given the privilege of subscribing for one-third of their present holdings. The weakness in this stock had a sympathetic effect upon all the railways, and they all sold off, the highest priced ones showing the greatest weakness. Among the latter was Northwest, which broke from 175¾, the close Wednesday night, to 171½. New York Central sold down to 125, and St. Paul from 151 to 148¾. Atchison dropped to 71½. Union Pacific to 81½, and Baltimore & Ohio to 87. The low-priced issues were all fractionally lower. Amalgamated Copper was to the industrial list what Pennsylvania was to the railroads. The opening price of 56¾ proved to be the highest of the day. From that point it steadily declined, until in the last dealings it broke to 52, the lowest ever quoted, and representing a shrinkage of more than $100,000,000 in market value compared with the price quoted just three years ago this month. Sugar was also under some pressure, while United States Steel held steady at only fractional declines. The lowest prices of the day were made in the closing hour, and the final sales were at only slight fractions above the lowest. The sales amounted to 767,600 shares.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The news of the day was not favorable, but it could not be cited as responsible for all the weakness, as will be seen by a recital of the chief incidents. The most important was the government report on cotton, showing a condition of only 74.1 per cent, a decline of about 21 points compared with the May report, and 12 points below the June average for 10 years. The logical effect of this report should have been to severely depress the southern and southwestern group of railroads. It should have less effect upon Pennsylvania than almost any other stock on the list, and yet Pennsylvania was the conspicuously weak spot of the market. So too with the state reports on the condition of winter wheat. Missouri reported a condition of 69 per cent, against 88 per cent a month ago, and also reported that the acreage of wheat planted was only 74 per cent. This and other reports of a similar tenor might be expected to adversely affect the granger roads, but the decline in the latter was more in the way of sympathizing with the weakness in the leader; at all events they did not take the initiative in the decline. There was no change in the anthracite mining dispute, and likewise no change in the industrial situation generally. If any stocks should be affected by mining or other industrial troubles they should be United States Steel common and preferred, and had these been weak there might have been some connection found for the decline in Pennsylvania, which depends so much upon industrial activity for its tonnage; but, as stated, the steel stocks were steady in the face of the weakness of the railway list. There were official denials of the reports of a Gould-Rockefeller combination to enter the Pennsylvania's field, and there was certainly no evidence of new friction in this matter. This brief review of the leading incidents on the surface leaves only one responsible inference to account for the semi-demoralization that prevailed. That is, some large interest or interests were being forced to liquidate. Whether the compulsion springs from personal animosities, or whether from "circumstances over which the sellers have no control," is a matter of varying opinion. A large amount of the selling of Amalgamated Copper was traced to Boston, and inasmuch as operators in that market have been largely interested in Canadian securities, and must have suffered enormous loss, there was a suspicion that some Bostonians were in trouble. The feeling in the street was one of pessimism, due largely to the fact that no satisfactory explanation has yet been made to account for the course of the market during the past few weeks.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The speculative situation was somewhat aggravated during the afternoon by the advance in money rates. Call loans had been nominally quoted at 2½@3 per cent during the greater part of the day, but late in the session the rate ran up to 4½ per cent, the highest that has been quoted for a month. The shipment of $4,735,000 gold to Paris and Berlin was made, and the clearing house report reflected the loss of the banks to the sub-treasury to that extent. There was no change in foreign bank rates. The Bank of England, however, reported an increase of $2,300,000 in loans and a decrease of about $3,000,000 in reserve. The Bank of France reported an increase of about $1,000,000 in cash and a decrease of more than $22,000,000 in loans. The Imperial Bank of Germany showed an increase of about $20,000,000 in loans and a decrease of $5,000,000 in cash. In Pittsburgh the money market was firm, with 6 per cent quoted on all new business.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

There was a falling off in business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, and prices averaged lower. The steel stocks were the leaders in activity. A thousand shares of Crucible common changed hands at 16@16¼, and over 1,200 shares of United States Steel common at 31⅝@32⅜. Crucible preferred declined to 81½ and United States Steel preferred to 81⅝. The coal stocks were dull, but steady. Westinghouse Electric sold off from 95¼ to 92½, closing at 92¾ bid, a loss of $1 for the day. Airbrake was 2 points lower at 160. A small lot of Manufactures Light and Heat, sold at 41¾, but the stock was subsequently offered at 41¼. Fuel Supply sold at 42 and 42¼. As a rule, bank and trust stocks were weak. A small lot of Guarantee Title and Trust sold at 210, a drop of 25 points from the last previous sale. Real Estate Trust sold down to 236½, and was offered at that price at the close. Commonwealth Trust did not change hands, but was offered at 240, a decline of 5 points from the closing sale on Wednesday. German American Savings and Trust was 1½ per cent higher, selling at 160½, and 20 shares Second National sold at 840, an advance of 15 points over last week.

DEMAND FOR REFINED SUGAR INCREASING

Home-Grown Strawberries Now Here — Watermelon Prices Are Lower.

While no advance has as yet come in the price of refined sugar, there was a largely increased demand yesterday, showing that buyers have at last gotten to the point where it is necessary to purchase. There has been an inclination to hold off for some time, which has made sugar trade slow for the season, and jobbers have not been anxious to sell while prices are in the present unsatisfactory condition, but the demand has started and is likely to be brisker from now on, as stocks are low. Flour is steady, and an attempt is being made by jobbers to push quotations up, mills holding very stiff and refusing to make any concessions whatever for orders. Wheat has been a trifle easier, but flour is very active, and an advance would not be surprising. Other grocery staples unchanged.

Home-grown strawberries are now in the market, as well as stock from Ohio, Delaware, New Jersey and Maryland, with a few belated arrivals from North Carolina, which seems to have had a wonderful crop this year. So far receipts from Ohio are full of sand on account of the rainy weather, which loosened up the soil and scattered it over the growing fruit. Home berries are only commencing to come, and are not yet up to the standard of flavor. Blackberries and huckleberries went lower yesterday, and prices are getting down to a range which will start buying. Watermelons are getting more plentiful, and quotations declined. Cantaloupes hold their own and are unusually fine this year, showing up in much better condition than early arrivals from the south often do. Box apples are coming in from New Mexico, and are of splendid quality. California cherries are abundant and weak in price.

The potato market, both for new and old, holds just about as it has been for a week, and quotations are unchanged. Arrivals of new are daily increasing but growing demand is keeping pace with the larger receipts. String beans are plentiful and easy at quotations, while peas are less abundant, and are firmer.

Butter is steady at the advance of Monday, with demand able to take care of all receipts of good table grades. Eggs are steady, with some sellers claiming to be securing prices in advance of quotations. Cheese is holding its own, and is moving out freely at prices which have been maintained since the close of last week.

Poultry trade continues without feature, supply and demand just about holding each other level. Receipts are fair, but the request is keeping up much better than usual for the time of year.

Hay is firm, and market quotations are unchanged. Oats are steady at prices quoted, but figures being obtained without trouble for good stock, sales being made yesterday at prices listed. Millfeed is in scant supply and is firm. Corn is steady at figures which have ruled all week. Dealers here are inclined to think that the ultimate results of floods in the west will be of advantage to grain of all kinds and that large crops may be expected if no other conditions arise to interfere.

CEREALS ONCE MORE ADVANCE IN PRICE

Buying Orders and Damage Reports Cause an Advance in the Chicago Pit.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 4.—Bullish flood news caused renewed strength in the grain pits today, July wheat closing 1½c higher, with corn 1@1¼c higher and oats up ¾c. Provisions closed steady, with the September products unchanged to 5@7½c lower. Wheat ruled decidedly strong and trading was active with a large volume of business. The market was strong throughout the entire session, opening prices being higher on steady cables, small receipts and threatening weather. July was up ⅛c to ½@¾c at 75c to 75¾@76c, and after selling at 74½@75c, shortly after the opening, prices steadily advanced. The exciting causes were the strength at St. Louis and the extremely bullish character of the Missouri crop report, which showed a loss of 17 per cent in the condition of the crop during the past month.

Damage reports from Kansas and Nebraska were also in evidence and helped in creating anxiety among shorts, while the strength in corn was another bull factor. There was a good general demand all day, with light offerings. St. Louis continued in advance during the last hour and the price here rose in sympathy, closing prices being near the top. July, selling at 76¼c, July closed at 76c, a net gain of 1¼c. Primary receipts were 269,000 bushels, compared with 388,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 179 cars, which, with local receipts of 19 cars, none of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 198 cars, against 166 cars last week and 206 cars a year ago. Heavy buying of July corn by prominent commission houses and the generally bullish sentiment among local traders, caused an advance of over a cent in that delivery, while other months were also strong but the demand was not so urgent for the more distant futures. Strong cables and the bullish crop reports were the chief bull factors. The Missouri crop report was extremely bullish and estimated that 75 per cent of the corn was not yet in the ground. Conditions in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska were also reported bad and under these influences shorts were active buyers throughout the day and trading was on a large scale. After selling between 47¾ and 49@49¼c, July closed 1@1¼c higher at 48¾@48¾c. Local receipts were 322 cars, 14 of contract grade.

The uncertainty of the crop prospects and the strength in corn brought out a big commission house demand for oats, while shorts covered freely, resulting in a strong market. Aside from the steady buying and bright offerings the market was featureless. The close was strong, with July ⅝c higher at 35¾c, after selling between 34¾ and 35c. Local receipts were 117 cars.

Heavy receipts of hogs, together with a decline in prices at the yards, caused provisions to start weak and lower, but the strength in grains brought out buying and the market turned strong. There was a good demand from packers, as well as a fair commission house buying. Realizing toward the close caused a slight reaction. September pork closed 2½c lower at $16 85. September lard was unchanged at $9 87½, and ribs were down 5@7½c at $9 10.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 85 cars; corn, 415 cars; oats, 150 cars; hogs, 26,000 head.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The drygoods market conditions are no more favorable than they have been at any time this week. Conservatism is the keynote of buyers' actions and the steady, firm position of the seller in regard to concessions and the necessity of obtaining more for goods, has not influenced the buyer to any more liberal purchases. Jobbers have been doing an indifferent business throughout the week and reports from the country are not encouraging for liberal buying as long as the effects of floods and droughts is so much in evidence.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5 points to an advance of 5 points and ruled generally quiet in keeping with featureless foreign news. The world's visible showed a decrease of 591,435 bags for the month, but offerings were rather liberal and the market eased off, closing net unchanged at 5 points lower. Total sales of futures, 16,250 bags, including June at 3.75@3.75c; July, 3.80@3.85c; November, 4.15@4.20c; December, 4.45c; January, 4.50c; March, 4.80@4.85c; April, 4.75c; May, 4.80c.

EXCEPTIONAL SECURITY AFFORDED.

The issue is secured by the deposit of the Capital Stock of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, which is the only lien on the Company's properties, right and privileges.

The capital stock of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company is	$ 1,500,000
Its market value is	$ 4,470,000
The actual cash invested in the Company's plant is		$ 4,954,501 65
The capital stock of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company is	$21,500,000
Its market value at $43 per share is	$18,490,000
The actual cash invested in the Company's plant is		$24,345,000 00
The security afforded by the market value of both companies is	$22,960,000
The security afforded by actual cash invested in both companies is		$29,299,501 65
In addition the Company has cash on hand and cash assets (the latter being partly estimated) of		$ 1,258,000 00
Making a total property value securing the bonds, approximately		$30,557,501 65
Against which there is a total bonded indebtedness, outstanding, including this and all subsidary issues, of anly		$ 3,607,000 00

Under a special provision of the agreement entered into at the time of the purchase of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company by The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, when all of the stock of the former company has been transferred to the latter, the floating indebtedness of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company is limited to $200,000 at any one time; and no other bonds can be secured upon its assets until this issue is completely retired.

OPERATIONS.

The official reports of the operations of the Wheeling Natural Gas Company for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1903, show:

Gross Receipts	$1,447,580 65
Operating Expenses (including rentals, taxes, legal, labor, well drilling, etc.	944,237 12
Net Earnings	$ 503,343 53
Dividends paid	$ 150,000 00
Net Surplus	$ 353,343 53
The interest on $2,000,000.00 at 6 per cent per annum, amounts to	$ 120,000 00
So that it is readily seen from the foregoing the company could easily pay the interest charges on the bonds, continue its 10 per cent dividends on its capital stock, retire $200,000 bonds each year, and leave a net surplus, after all charges, of	$ 233,343 53

The official report of the operations of The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and affiliated companies for the quarter ending March 31, 1903, shows:

Gross Earnings	$1,354,539 99
Operating Expenses, including taxes, rentals, etc.	375,202 36
Net Earnings	$ 979,337 63

Based on these figures and allowing liberally for the dull periods, it is conservatively estimated that, owing to savings brought about by the merger, etc., the statement for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1904, will show:

Gross Earnings	$5,000,000 00
Operating Expenses, including taxes, rentals, etc.	1,500,000 00
Net Earnings	$3,500,000 00
Annual Sinking Fund requirements	$357,500
Interest on Bonds	221,000
Total fixed charges	$ 578,500 00
Net Surplus, applicable to dividends, etc	$2,921,500 00

The Wheeling Natural Gas Company was incorporated under the laws of West Virginia March 26, 1886, and, at the time of its purchase by The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, was managed by the following well-known gentlemen: Officers: William Flinn, President; A. B. Dally, Jr., Vice President and General Superintendent; W. J. Diehl, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors: William Flinn, A. B. Dally, Jr., George H. Flinn, Edwin Bindley, C. H. Stolzenbach, Vincent Stevens, H. A. Neeb, A. C. Robertson, John S. Wilson. The company began paying dividends in 1894, and, at the time of its absorption, was paying at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company was incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania in October, 1900, and its principal offices are in Pittsburgh. Its officers and directors are: Officers: H. B. Beatty, President; O. H. Strong, First Vice President; L. A. Meyran, Second Vice President; E. H. Myers, Treasurer; H. E. Seibert Secretary. Directors: H. B. Beatty, O. H. Strong, L. A. Meyran, George W. Crawford, E. H. Myers, H. I. Beers, H. M. Nichols, E. V. Selden, David Iseman, F. N. Chambers, L. B. Beatty. At the time of the purchase of the Fort Pitt Gas Company, it was paying dividends at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, or 3 per cent quarterly. Starting July 1st next, it will be the policy to pay quarterly dividends of 1½ per cent, or at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, on its entire capital stock. The property, rights and franchises of the two companies are immensely valuable. The territory supplied affords now enormous business and a great opportunity for phenomenal expansion. That served by the Wheeling Natural Gas Company embraces the towns of Wheeling, W. Va.; Martins Ferry, Ohio.; Bridgeport, Ohio; Bellaire, Ohio; Moundsville, W. Va.; Benwood, W. Va.; McMechen, W.
